

“DIVVIE”

Sharp flashing teeth as he streaks past
make lightning strikes seem half as fast.
The rumblings from his speeding feet
outrun low thunder down the street.
Electric storms recharge the skies
while he jolts earth with whitened eyes.

A docile dog just months ago
has turned into a dynamo.
What first began as cuddly cute
is now becoming wild brute.

Our efforts are designed at least
to keep control and tame the beast.
We have high hopes he'll come around
if we can short his spark to ground.
Embarrassed while he's growing up
we're pressed to best a six-month pup.

by Lee Netzler