

LET'S WALK

I know that you aren't keen to go,
to take a walk along the track.
It's pleasant here, but even so,
let's share a slow walk out and back.

There's no one here to hurry us.
We'll choose our own relaxing pace
and keep our hearts adventurous
as we depart this sheltered place.

We'll watch for visions, known and new,
to fill our time with treasured sights
that memories will trust as true
when we recall our walk highlights.

So let us amble unconfined.
Just think what wonders we will find.
I'll let you lead, and walk behind.
Aha! I thought you'd change your mind.

by Lee Netzler