

THE MAGIC SPOT

I found that without fail
there's a secret magic spot which all of them have got:
It's right next to their tail.

I set about to find
what makes each of them feel that spot's such a big deal on top of their behind.

I found that itchy patch;
It helped me figure out
what it was all about:
They hanker for a scratch.

That special little clump of coat atop their duff just never gets enough
of scratches on their rump.

So now I know just what it takes to make new friends:
You need to find rear ends and simply scratch a butt.

by Lee Netzler