

OUR WALKS

Is this walk mine, or is it yours?
Who gets to choose where we will go?
Though we stay straight or take detours,
we'll walk together, that I know.

Once, puzzled by our walking plan
I took the time to think it through and found not much was better than the pleasure of a walk with you.

So lead us from your collar end.
You jingle tags; I'll jangle keys.
We'll walk as though we set the trend
and go together where we please.
