COVER STORY

We at Sunrise Kennels had been waiting and hoping to purchase a male from Mrs. Muriel Owen of Gaywyn Kennels in England for some time, and were, needless to say, quite excited when she called saying that "Derek" was to be ours. When we picked him up at the airport we could already see that he had that "something special"—all of our waiting was worth it! Derek has proven to be everything we hoped for, and even more. He finished with four majors, including Best of Winners and Best in Sweeps at Great Western, and in very limited showing, has done some very nice winning as a special. He spent most of 1986 just having fun and "growing up" at the kennel, but he will begin his specials career in earnest in 1987. As a sire, Derek has also proven his worth, as you will soon see by his puppies just now beginning their own show careers, and we do appreciate the interest expressed by breeders from all parts of the country who have already sent Derek some very lovely bitches. (Derek tests V.W.D. clear.) We are proud to be blessed with a dog as lovely in body and spirit as Derek, and hope that you, too, will find him "something special" when you see us all at shows and specialties around the country next year!

QUESTIONNAIRE

Please send your response to the enclosed Health Questionnaire directly to Dr. Padgett of Michigan University. See Form for specifics.

POLICIES

1. Bio Forms are to be inserted as a separate flyer in every Fall issue of the Bagpiper. Instructions to read: To the Members of the S.T.C.A., If interested in serving in any capacity as an officer or director, please complete form and return it to the Corresponding Secretary. If you wish to recommend another party, please complete what is applicable and write your recommendation on the reverse side.
2. All Ads must be paid for, i.e., a check must accompany ad copy, before they are run in the magazine. This has been Club Policy since 1978 and has not been adhered to, the Treasurer is concerned with the loss amount for uncollected ads.
3. At all Nat'l Specialty Shows the Editor is to speak to the photographer prior to any photos being taken and ask him to send black & white photos of—Best of Breed; Best of Opposite; Best of Winners and Best in Sweeps. The photos are to be sent to the Editor, the charges are to be sent to the Treasurer. Be sure to give the Treasurer's name and address. If the Editor cannot attend, it is his/her responsibility to appoint someone to do it.

The Bagpiper is pleased to announce the introduction of a Health column beginning with the Fall Edition. Topics will focus on the health concerns of the Scottish Terrier and the responsibility of his owner in dealing with health.

Here are some facts about your Bagpiper which may be of interest to you. We publish four (4) times a year. Deadlines are:

JANUARY 15	Winter	The Stud Dog Issue
APRIL 15	Spring	The Rotating Specialty
JULY 15	Summer
OCTOBER 15	Fall	Montgomery County

Readers can reasonably expect delivery of each issue six to eight (6-8) weeks after the deadline.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

NATIONAL SWEEPSTAKES UPDATE

On October 4, 1986 the Scottish Terrier Club of America will host an independent Sweepstakes on the grounds of the West Chester Inn, West Chester, Pennsylvania. Mr. John Sheehan of Long Lake, Minnesota will judge beginning at 2:00 PM.

Prior to this year sweepstakes has been held in conjunction with our Regular Classes at the Montgomery County Kennel Club Show on Sunday. Over the years the substantial increase in breed entries at this most prestigious event has often resulted in judging conflicts for exhibitor and entry, as well as an inability for viewers to observe both rings at the same time. In addition to the rise in entries recent AKC rule changes have resulted in the decision to hold Sweepstakes Judging separately on Saturday afternoon.

Sweepstakes are open to all dogs and bitches between the ages of six and eighteen months. Entries for the Scottish Terrier Club of America Sweepstakes will be made on a separate entry form contained in the Sweepstakes Premium copy to be mailed by MB-Foley Dog Shows at the same time as the Montgomery Premium. You need not enter the regular classes at Devon or Montgomery Shows to be eligible for sweepstakes. We have requested an early morning judging for Scottish Terriers at Saturday's Devon Dog Show and have scheduled Sweepstakes at two o'clock in the afternoon. Hopefully we can avoid conflicts for those wishing to exhibit at both Devon and the National Sweepstakes. While your entry for Devon and Montgomery Shows will be returned to MB-F Dog Shows your sweepstakes entry will be mailed to our show secretary, Mr. J. Richard Seelbach, 17 Pine Tree Road, Ramsey, New Jersey 07446. Entry fees for sweepstakes will be $5.00 per entry.

Saturday's judging will be new and as such an undertaking requiring hard work and patience. Excited by the possibilities we are looking forward to the "New Generation." All the youngsters on exhibit and occupying center stage. Judging will be outdoors on the lower front lawn of National Headquarters at the West Chester Inn. Catalogs will be on sale and advertising space is offered to all members and breeders of Scottish Terriers. It is hoped that every member and breeder will be listed. Advertising is limited to a quarter page ad with no photos at a cost of $15.00. The low cost and simple format is to encourage listings nationwide of supporters and breeders of this generation of Scottish Terrier and those to come. Please respond to the advertising solicitation of Berenda Perez-Gili which you have already received in the mail.

In addition to the monies divided and awarded in Sweepstake competition this year many trophies have been donated for Division winners. Thank you to Trophy Chairman Mrs. Barbara DeSaye and all who have contributed to the support of the show and sweepstakes through generous donations.

Please bring chairs for viewing the sweepstakes on Saturday. Some tenting will be provided. As you are aware this is a new undertaking. We look forward to the exciting possibilities for the future. This Sweepstakes will showcase the New Generation of Scottish Terriers from all regions of the country. Our undivided attention will be centered on the puppies and youngsters just starting show careers. The success is in the entry... make sure your stock is represented.

SUMMARY OF THE MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE SCOTTISH TERRIER CLUB OF AMERICA

Hilton Inn, Burbank, C.A.
June 20, 1986

President John DeSaye called the meeting to order at 9:15 a.m.

Officers and Board Members present:

President	Mr. John DeSaye
Vice President	Ms. Kathi Brown
Corresponding Secretary	Mrs. Jackie Seelbach
Recording Secretary	Mrs. Betty McArthur
Treasurer	Mrs. Neatha Robinson
Directors:	Mr. John Cohen; Mr. Michael Cook; Ms. Cindy Cooke; Mr. Richard Fowler; Mr. Richard Hickman; Mrs. Helen Prince and Ms. Ann Wooldridge

The chair entertained a motion to accept the minutes as received. Two corrections were noted and corrected. Motion to accept the minutes as corrected, motion carried.

Corresponding Secretary's Report: A list of correspondence sent and received since the last meeting was distributed, the following action was taken:

Regional Club Specialties approved:

San Francisco Bay STC	September 13, 1986
Greater Miami STC	December 5, 1986
Greater Dallas STC	March 20, 1987
STC of Greater Dayton	March 28, 1987

Fact Sheet: Many Regional Clubs have been requesting the STCA Fact Sheet as a handout at club functions. The Fact Sheet is available at the advertised cost of 10¢ each to any member or regional club that wishes to purchase them. Order directly through the Corresponding Secretary.

Puppies Imported for Pet Shops: Response from the STCE regarding investigation into the puppies being imported at 5 to 7 weeks of age for sale at Pet Shops. We were advised that the STCE is aware of the situation, however these puppies are protected under the Agriculture Act as they are being sent for 'breeding purposes' and are not subject to age limits.

Awards Tally Committee: Resignation from this committee received from Claudia Leffler due to unforeseen personal commitments. Helen Prince volunteered to assist. Motion-McArthur/Brown to have Helen Prince assist Chairman Ken Spradling for the remainder of the 1985 awards tally. Motion carried.

New Arizona Regional Club: Letter received from T. Hossfeld requesting information on requirements to form a regional club. Corresponding Secretary to send STCA guidelines and necessary contacts.

A.K.C. Delegates Report: Dr. Kirk sent his report on the meeting of June 10, 1986. 1. Changes in closing dates: The former rule was that a show held on Thursday had a closing date of Saturday (19 days as required by the AKC) Clustered shows, from Thursday thru Sunday would actually have two closing dates. Exhibitors complained that when sending in their entries in a package they would be too late for the Thurs. entry. NEW RULE PASSED—Allows the Thursday show to close on a Wednesday in conjunction with the cluster.

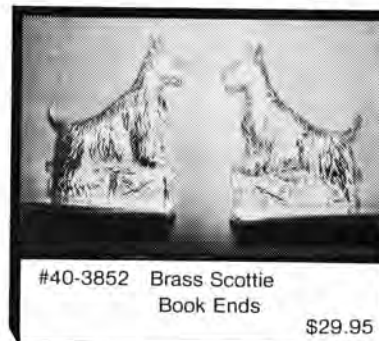

CLARIFICATION OF DOG BITING RULE, passed March '85. A dog will be excused if he growls or otherwise lets a judge know that he cannot be examined. Only if there is an overt action is he disqualified. In the latter case a reinstatement board is appointed under the following circumstances:

1. Only if there is an application.
2. Then, only if there is a question about the dogs temperament that a hands on check can solve.
 - a. If he snapped because the Judge approached the dog in a threatening way or from behind, etc. and the judge confirms this, the dog will be reinstated by the AKC Board without an examination.
 - b. If he overtly and viciously attacked anyone and frankly was out of control there will be no board review, he is out.

RULES APPLYING TO REGISTRATION AND DOG SHOWS: Chapter 10, Section 13 of Rules Applying to Dog Shows

1. The maximum number of dogs assigned in the breed judging to any judge, in one day, shall never exceed 175.

If a Futurity or Sweepstakes is offered in connection with a specialty show, which is held as part of an all-breed show, the figure of 175 shall be reduced to 150 for the specialty show.

The limitation of 150 would apply to the specialty show only. Thus, a judge could not do more than 150 dogs in the specialty show, but could be assigned other breeds, which could bring his or her total assignment above the 150 dogs. This would be acceptable as long as the 175 dog limit was not exceeded. For example, if a judge draws an entry of 151 in the specialty show and also has an entry of 20 dogs in additional breeds, it would be necessary to remove one class dog from the breed in which there was a specialty. If the judge has an entry of 149 dogs in the specialty, and has 21 dogs in other breeds, no reassignment would be necessary.

Recording Secretary's Report: As received from the Treasurer, effective 6/1/86 there are 46 members delinquent with their dues payments. The Treasurer has sent three dues notices advising the deadline. Motion—McArthur/Wooldridge to accept this list as dropped from membership. Motion carried. Motion—Brown/McArthur-That in case of delinquent members, when time frame has been reached, the Board action to remove from membership proceed. Any reapplication of these members may be made with the Board waiver of Initiation fee. Motion carried.

Standard Operating Procedure changes and an updated constitution was distributed for file in the SOP manuals. This and all current changes to date were mailed to each Regional Club Secretary for their manuals.

Treasurer's Report: Neatha Robinson distributed the Trial Balance/Income Statement/and Balance Sheet as of 5/31/86.

Current Income: $1926.19

Expenses $1947.53

Net Loss ($ 21.34)

Current Operating Account Balance $8,068.85/Handbook Acct, $11,074.69/Stalter Fund $11,183.27.

The Bonding Co. requires a party who is unauthorized to withdraw funds be the individual to reconcile accounts. Motion-Brown/Seelbach that John Cohen be appointed to reconcile accounts and to serve on the audit committee. Motion carried.

Committee Reports:

Handbook: Michael Cook reported the Handbook is at the printers and the proof set should be received within a few weeks. The proofs will be read by John and Marjorie Cohen and himself.

National Show Chairman: Kathie Brown reported that due to the new AKC ruling the Sweepstakes will be held on Saturday October 4th on the grounds of the Westchester Inn. The Specialty will be held on Sunday October 5th at Montgomery County. There will be separate premium lists for each show. A detailed report on the Sweepstakes is listed elsewhere in this issue. A flyer will be sent to the membership for room and dinner reservations.

Awards: Chairman Helen Prince read the names of the nominees as received from the members and the recommendations from the Awards committee. The recipients will be announced at the Annual Meeting.

Unfinished Business:

Michigan State University: In response to the request from MSU regarding their study of genetic transmitted diseases and their questionnaire on defects within our breed, the Board completed the questionnaire and requests the membership also contributes to this project by completing the questionnaire inserted in this issue.

Clarification of a Professional Handler: The committee of Dr. Kirk and Ann Wooldridge reported the following definition:

A professional handler is an individual who derives the major portion of his livelihood from: Boarding, grooming, training and exhibiting dogs other than his own or his families for show either at AKC events or in other commercial exhibitions. The ownership or management of a boarding kennel, grooming parlor or training school may qualify him as a professional boarding kennel man, groomer or grainer, but not as a professional handler, neither is the individual who picks up a dog at ringside and walks him around the ring, he is a shower. To be a professional handler requires all four functions in amamemtorium.

Motion Cooke/Cook To accept this definition of a professional handler and include it in our guidelines. Motion carried.

1988 Rotating: The Regional Clubs in the Western Area were sent letters of solicitation to host the 1988 Rotating Specialty. Replies were received from S.T.C.C., W.S.T.C. and S.T.C.G.D. Considering the purpose of the Rotating, which is to stimulate interest for those who are in areas away from the Clubs that have the opportunity to hold specialties, motion was made to hold the Nat'l Rotating in Denver. Motion carried. It has been twelve years since there has been a specialty in this area. We hope to have the members and exhibitors in all the surrounding areas participate in its success.

New Business

Video Montgomery County: Consideration is being given to have the Regular Classes and the Sweepstakes at Montgomery County Video taped for Club members to purchase at a reasonable price and to have a copy maintained for S.T.C.A. records. John DeSaye shall research the possibilities and final arrangements, if any, will be announced at Montgomery County.

Bagpiper Policy additions: Bio-Forms are to be inserted annually in the Fall Issue as a separate flyer to all members for those interested in serving on the Board of Directors or to recommend another person. The form is to be returned to the Corresponding Secretary to hold for the next nominating committee.

All Ads must be paid for, i.e., a check must accompany ad copy, before they are run in the magazine. This has been Club Policy since 1978 and shall be adhered to for all future editions. A notice advising a $10.00 charge shall be placed on all bounced checks.

New Members: Corresponding Secretary Jackie Seelbach presented the list of new member applications received. Motion-Brown/McArthur to accept the new members as presented. The forty-five new members are listed under the Welcome Wagon section of this issue.

Judges Education Committee: Letter received from Nancy Fingerhut that she would be unable to continue as chairman of this committee at this time, but was willing to serve on the committee. Motion-McArthur/Wooldridge to appoint Neatha Robinson as chairman. Motion carried, Neatha accepted the position. The committee members will be advised of the change.

Trophy: Chairman Barbara DeSaye reported the success of the trophy committee and that all trophies were purchased and in order for M.C. Barbara extended her thanks to the members of the S.T.C.A. for their generous support.

Working Terrier: The STC of Greater Washington D.C. submitted a petition to Claudia Leffler, chairman of the S.T.C.A. Working Terrier Com., to recognize the Potomac Cairn Terrier Club Trials qualifications as equating with the Working Terrier Assn. and therefore be eligible for the S.T.C.A. Working Terrier Certificate. Claudia Leffler confirmed that the requirements were the same and recommended the Washington D.C. Club members be eligible to receive the WTA certificate. Motion-Prince/Seelback to accept Claudia's recommendation. Motion carried.

Motion to adjourn-McArthur/Cooke, motion carried.

The meeting was adjourned at 5:00 p.m.

Next Board meeting on October 3, 1986 9:00 a.m., Montgomery County, P.A.

Respectfully submitted,

Betty McArthur, Recording Secretary

THE GROOMING CORNER

The Grooming Corner will be presented every quarter in the Bagpiper. If you have a grooming tip or grooming question, drop a note to the Grooming Editor. Joann Glaser at 18600 W. Edwards Rd. Antioch, IL. 60002.

LUMPY TOPLINES

Have you ever looked at your Scot's topline and found that it looked wavy or uneven yet the individual hairs were straight? This is a problem we often see in the show ring. The Scottish Terrier Standard avoids talking about the topline, but most judges feel that a level topline is essential.

The solution to the lumpy topline is fairly simple and is obvious once you know the principle. In the lumpy topline some hairs have been allowed to grow out quite long. These longer hairs tend to curve because the hair shaft becomes less hard away from the tip. Remember, the hardest part of the stripped hair is close to the tip: within $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ inch from the tip.

To remedy this condition, set-up your dog on a grooming table in front of a mirror. Back combo the coat on the dog's back to have all hair stand on end. Then simply strip out these longer hairs that are causing the lumpy appearance.

Note, it is always a good idea to groom your Scotties in front of a mirror. It is also a very good practise to have someone move your dog while you view it from all sides to see the picture he will present in the show ring.

GOING PLACES

BALACHAN

Roanoke, VA.

Tom & Evelyn Kirk

The natives of Western Virginia are a fair-minded but fiercely independent people. Their motto is like that of the State of Virginia which they translate as, "Get your foot off my neck". They resist change and risk almost anything to keep from being put-upon. Therefore, I think it only fitting that there should be a Scottish Terrier Club and breeders in this area. That description sounds only too familiar.

Purchasing our first Scottie in 1947, we began showing almost immediately. Molly was a living doll, having all the things, we thought, necessary for competition: four legs, two eyes, two ears and a wagging tail. What a rude awakening! She certainly had all the things necessary to make us love Scotties—plus! She had a passion for Scotch whiskey. There's nothing worse than a drunk dog. We bred her anyway, once, and she had one pup, stillborn. I felt like Butterfly in "G.W.T.W.", wringing my hands, "Lawsy me, I don't know nuthin' 'bout birthin' babies". If I had known then a fraction of what I know now, I probably could have saved it. We grieved, Molly and I.

So, between Molly and the present mother/son pair at our house, there has been a long parade of Scotties, punctuated by a Cairn, Bedlington, Sheep Dog, Deerhound and Dandies... don't forget the Dandies, and a Westie. Then there was the love of my life.

He was born in the basement of this house, July 1, 1967. I whelped him myself. The moment I saw him I knew he was mine. Growing up, he was very brindled and he gleamed red in the sun. He got two 5 point wins and I was crushed when the third one broke and it became only 4 points. Needing 1 point to finish, he was in a small show, up against handler handled dogs and I was frantic! I said, to the greatest cat hunter of them all, "Where's the Cat?". He responded with, "Where, Where?"; his hackles up, all his inventions going like mad and the judge turned and said, "Winners"! We did it! He went on to win the group and no dog ever deserved it more.

He slept under my bed. He would gladly have slept on it, but it was like hugging a porcupine. After Tom left for work in the mornings, I would sit in the recliner with my second cup of coffee and he would jump up in my lap. This was "our" time. Then I would say, "Let's get to work", and he'd give me a quick glance and a lick on the hand and down he'd jump... shaking the house. He'd trot to his station at the window beside the door, the one with the heavy duty glass that was the replacement for the glass he went through... after a cat. For eight years that was the way it was.

After he died, I couldn't bear to wash his nose prints off the window. I cherished the spot he left on the bedroom carpet where he was sick. And there was a great, tangible emptiness under my bed. Fiercely independent, loyal and loving, that was Russell, My handsome dog/son. He will always live in my heart and in all Scotties everywhere.

Remembering...this month will mark the 20th year since our first Scottish Terrier. He was a pet-shop puppy and we loved him. Shortly after getting him, Tom Kirk's book "This is the Scottish Terrier" was published and we met all the clan at BALACHAN—I had been bitten by the show dog bug!

It was to be four years before our second addition—our first champion bitch, Ch. Balachan Windsong. During the next couple of years, she was finished, bred and we showed and finished her daughter.

By now, I had some idea of what I liked, and was very anxious to get lines back to a bitch that Tom & Evelyn had bred named Ch. Balachan Gibson Girl. This was not easy, as she was gone and her last litter had turned 7 years old.

While looking through the newly published Champions, I spied a grandson of hers and promptly sent an inquiry to Lee Hastings, the owner. I had expressed my interest in getting back to the Gibson Girl lines. His reply came quickly and with it an offer to place the stud's dam with me. I was somewhat hesitant about taking on a 7 year old kennel bitch, but he assured me she was fit, and that I should be able to get a litter from her.

A chance to get back to Gibson Girl with a daughter sired by Ch. Viewpark Viking of Cy Ann (another favorite of mine, now gone)—I didn't care how old she was!

Lee had purchased this bitch at 6 months and although not shown, she had produced several litters for him, with a number finishing their titles.

Arrangements were made and she arrived (after the not uncommon foul-up with the airlines!) looking like a 2 year old! She was immaculate (especially considering she had just weaned her fourth litter) and could have stepped into the show ring at that moment! Needless to say, she began her show career! She was a Christmas Eve pup, and named "Balachan Noelle", better known as 'Tinsel'.

She was shown sparingly, because of breeding, completing her championship just before her ninth birthday!

She had had a litter for me (6) which was the beginning of the "Naughty" names: Ch. Breacan Truly Naughty, Ch. Breacan Naughty Sample, Ch. Breachan Naughty Enough, Ch. Bracan Not to Naughty to name a few.

I was only to have her a few more short months, but she was one of the house dogs and was total boss. She just came in and took over! Although fond of all the family, she was my dog, and never let me forget WHAT I was supposed to be doing and WHEN I was supposed to do it!

Who would ever think that a kennel bitch acquired at 7½ years would have turned out to be your "foundation bitch", much less a loving companion and housedog?

This always makes me think of all the people who never consider an older dog, as they always want a YOUNG PUPPY (Preferrably before it is weaned!). They don't know what they are missing!

Today, 'Tinsel' has left me with a warm spot in my heart and that certain feeling that most of us have had with at least one of our dogs that is indescribable when you try to put it on paper. She has also left me with her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren who never fail to do something that reminds me of the grand old lady herself!

AERIE

Herb & Linda Quarles

What is it like at "AERIE"? It's loud—like a thousand voices calling, "Hey—Mom—watch this!", or "Guess what B. Nolan did while you were gone?!?!", or "We're glad you're home—now let's eat!!" It's Scotties everywhere—and always voicing their opinion! If they are quiet, they are staring at me until I look. I love it! Living with these animals is a real lesson in life—they provide a knowledge about humanity that most people don't know exist. They've given us a lot.

Herb and I started with two lovely bitches; Ch. Kirk Nor Sitting Pretty and Ch. Scattergood Magic Moments ("Pretty" and "Noel"). They did well in the ring and they produced. We waited a long time for them, as we had to "prove" ourselves—"pay some dues"—, only then did they "become available." We had bred a few litters and finished several champions, when Herb saw Ch. Gaidoune Bicentennial Bear ("Tennial"), being shown by Nancy Lenfestey. He was very impressed and called me from the show—describing him. I was impressed—sight unseen.

Later we sent "Noel" to "Tennial" for breeding. The litter was exceptionally nice and we finished all of them. We got everything we were looking for, so we decided to take "Pretty" to him. That's when I saw this dog for the first time—. He walked out of the kennel at Silver Ho and he literally took my breath away—I had never seen a Scottie as beautiful—with such presence. To this day, I remember that moment. I reached down and touched his shoulders—I was awed. In that instant, I saw everything I'd ever dreamed of in a Scottie; there, in that one dog—. I couldn't speak, for there was a lump in my throat. He gave quality—real quality—that fit together—to every puppy we had from him.

From the patter of little feet running all over the house—to that "Best In Show"—it is a pleasure to watch these animals develop. They are exuberant—joyous; looking for anything new, exciting, and different. What's more, each dog has their own strong, stable, adaptable personality. We communicate with eye contact—they listen—I listen.

I really couldn't say that one particular dog has made a more endearing impression on me. They are all so special. They have all contributed to our success. They are "The Pitts" and one would simply have to live with them to understand the extent of that. We do not require obedient dogs here. Let's just say we have a high regard for their intelligence! They are a treasure in this lifetime that Herb and I are honored to be a part of.

LONE APACHE ATTACKS SETTLEMENTS IN THE EAST, MID-WEST, AND WEST

Anstamm Apache with co-owner Linda Nolan
(Ch. Amescot Grand Slam x Anstamm Indian Summer)

During the month of June the Apache ambushed cavalry units in Northborough, MA, Grayslake, IL, Burbank, CA, and Lima, OH. The Bureau of Indian Affairs confirms the rumor that Anstamm Apache is a full brother to CH Anstamm Dakota Brave, leader of so many successful Indian attacks last fall and winter. It further warns that in addition to a full sister, Cheyenne Autumn, threatening to leave the reservation in the near future, there are several young Apaches studying war tactics on the Anstamm reservation.

THE STORY OF A(nstamm) MAID IN AMERICA

She was the first-born child of an immigrant father. He had come to America when he was very young. He had no skills then, but he was very handsome. He made his living first by showing off his good looks. Later, he made his way to a well-known escort service in Michigan, where he still works. OBEDIENCE

By Ruth Tryon

For a considerable time it has been the era of the Scottie—Scotties on everything, dishes, stationery, linens, clothes, even lingerie. A pert Scottie has captured the consumer. Even fanciers of other breeds find themselves buying these attractive Scottie decorated items.

Such popularity means, however, that we will see more real four footed Scotties out walking with their owners and, unfortunately, even some running loose. The puppy mills will not let such popularity go unnoticed and untapped. For them, it is larger sales and more money. For the STCA member-breeder it is greater responsibility. It becomes even more imperative than previously for these dedicated people to keep a watchful and concerned eye on where the place their puppies. It also increases the necessity for ALL Scotties to have basic Obedience training. We have a wonderful breed to work with and we owe it to the breed to be sure that not only we, but the public in general appreciates its intelligence and fine qualities and that good breeding always surfaces. It is from responsible breeders the public should obtain their Scottie friends and companions. Breeders are very busy people and often they do not have the time to do all the work connected with breeding our fine Scotties and also compete in the Obedience ring. However, we all have the time to learn about Obedience, explain it to the new owner of a Scottie puppy and not only just encourage him but to make it almost obligatory that the puppy have basic Obedience training. It only takes a few minutes to locate an Obedience Club or nearby Obedience school for the new owner and his new charge and to recommend some good books on Obedience training. And, breeder, please don't forget to make an occasional call to find out how the puppy is doing and to encourage the owner, and if and when they are in the Obedience ring to take a couple of minutes from your show schedule and go to the ring and watch the new team's performance. The rewards of friendship and understanding to both you and the new owner will be outstanding.

Frequently inquiries will be made to the owner of a Scottie being shown in Obedience as to where he obtained his Scottie. Often the owner will state the dog was purchased from a pet shop. But he will invariably go on to say that he has learned it was not the best route to take, that the dog has had health problems and although he loves his Scottie dearly, the next one will be from a breeder who cares. The breeder who has encouraged the new owner to go into Obedience has indeed scored many points for responsible breeding for the owner of his puppy will be quietly explaining to everyone how well the dog is bred, how strong and healthy and well socialized he is and how fortunate he has been in owning him. The public can learn but it needs the breeders and exhibitor's guidance and help.

Obedience training will not spoil any possible "show" puppy for the conformation ring. It will merely make him more manageable. A good handler in the conformation ring brings out the best qualities of the dog he is showing. It is the same in Obedience.

We enter the ring with the perfect score of 200—and from then on it is up to us as well as Mac to keep the judge from a busy pencil. One of the greatest "sins" in Novice is that the handler adjusts himself to Mac's pace, his wanderings from the straight line, his change in pace on the judge's command, not to mention Mac's sudden decision to hurry up or lag. The crowning part of this heeling performance is when Mac sits and the handler hastens to stand by Mac's side. Many such a performance has been disqualified by a judge and rightly so. But it is essentially constant errors on the handler's part, not Mac's, that creates this situation. A common error is watching Mac as he heels and does the Figure 8. Unfortunately, the more you turn your head and watch Mac the farther back he will lag and the handler even takes to leaning back a bit, and the vicious circle continues. So take your courage in your hand, assume he will heel exactly by your side where he should be and go ahead. You should be able to cast a fast glance with your eyes only, no turning, and see his black nose by your foot. If not, quickly get that correction in. All heeling training should be done on lead—how else can you get your corrections in—and the more on lead heeling you do, the better his off lead heeling will be. In fact, and it takes great will power not to decide to try Mac off lead, just to see how he would do, Don't do it—don't take Mac off lead until he is just about letter perfect on lead! It takes a strong will to resist temptation to just try it for a little bit—but hang in there with the lead on and that shining praiseworthy day of good off lead heeling will come.

And then there is that easy place to lose points on the Stand Examination. Mac can stand perfectly and wait for your return but if you, worrying and unsure, turn and back away, watching him as you leave him, you will lose points for him. No dog or person is perfect and there may be times that he won't do it all correctly—but have faith in him and give him the chance to show you how well he can do. Don't take points from him by your actions.

We also keep the judge's pencil busy by "body english". It is a fancy name for an extra command. Calling Mac and bending forward, becomes a voice and signal command and can be construed as a double command—and the pencil goes to work and you look for another trial! It is not necessary to be rigid and look like a military martinet, you can be relaxed and at ease—just call naturally, but don't let the head or any other part of you get in the act. Mac will come. He knows what you want—he does not need all the extra commands—just work with one. And while thinking about the recall, when the judge asks if you are ready, don't say "Yes" until you are sure you have Mac's attention and he will stay on one command. If Mac is not giving you his full attention, it might require two Stay commands—in which case you will again be looking for another Trial. When you are sure you are both ready, that is the time to say "Yes" to the judge. The judge will understand. Remember, the judge has stood in your place many times and wants you to pass just as much as you want to earn that qualifying score. And be sure to have your hands at your side when you face Mac to call him—and keep them there.

To train a Scottie for his C.D. should not take a great deal of time. Class will probably be about an hour one day or evening a week and 15 minutes a day for training at home is all that is asked by Mac. Certainly that is not too much time for him to ask of you—and the rewards to both of you are great. Those qualifying green ribbons are very special—but the greatest reward is that bond of companionship that develops between you and Mac. It is possible you will not have time to enter Mac in Obedience Trials but that is no excuse not to train him, and not to require the fine work from him you would ask should he be entering the ring. The higher your standards the better he will be and the safer he will be, always being under your control.

And once more—breeders, please take the same amount of time and caring about the puppy you sell as a companion as the one you sell for showing in the conformation ring. In placing your puppies, has it occurred to you that if a new owner cannot spend 15 minutes a day with the puppy, do you want that person to have your puppy? Help the companion puppy owner with grooming and general care just as you would the "show" puppy owner and encourage him in the Obedience world just as much as you do encourage the puppy owner in the conformation world. We all run short of time but each puppy—companion and obedience or conformation—is special because he is a Scottie.

March, 1975-July, 1986

Master Showman, Devoted Companion, a Proud and Noble Dog.

We'll never forget you B.J.

Names at the bottom of dog ads: they must be the people that those dogs own. I, for one, always wonder about these people "on the bottom line." What kind of folks, for instance, do Westminster Best of Breeds choose? Could they possibly be like me... like you?

While taking in the 110th Westminster Kennel Club show during February, I decided to find out. Meet one of the "specials" our wonderful terriers never seem to advertise—STCA member Louise Simon who is owned by Ch. Simonsez Charlie the Charmer.

Louise Simon belongs to a very small club. She may, in fact, be its only member. Her Westminster BOB, Ch. Simonsez Charlie the Charmer, came from the first litter she ever bred. Is there another terrier owner who can claim the same?

Dogs are not a new interest of Louise's though: "In my life there have been only three days without a dog," relates Louise. Words like that from someone who's been retired for years add up to decades.

"The first dog registered in my name was a Pekinese," she continues. "My second dog was a Pomeranian. She lived only six years. When I lost her, I thought I wanted a more sturdy breed, so I bought my first Scottie in the mid-'40s, one of Don Hutchins' Touzie Tykes." Since then, there has been an unbroken line of Scotties and Westies in Louise's household.

Louise is a retired civil service employee. While working for the Internal Revenue Service, she lived in the Washington, D.C., area. Northeastern winters are in 1986 sending her from Centerville, Va., on her second move to Phoenix since retirement.

"My dogs are my hobby; my dogs are my sole interest. I don't have kennels. They are house pets. Dogs are my reason for being," declares Louise. She put those very words into French when she named Charlie's litter sister, Ch. Simonsez My Raison d'Etre.

Ruthie, Louise's second Scottie was purchased in the '50s and was the start of her long-standing competition with obedience terriers. Ruthie was Louise's first C.D., and her first Westie, purchased at the same time, soon followed with the second C.D.

"By that time I was hooked," remembers Louise, "I wanted one to show in breed and obedience, to be a house pet and a champion. Blanche Reeg in no short order told me there was no such thing in a complete package."

Mrs. Reeg did steer Louise to a litter coming from her Blanart line. With the Washington, D.C., Scottie club's help, Louise "learned to groom and handle a bit. When Becky took reserve I thought she was ready to put with a handler. It was a mistake. I had made her such a pet. She did accumulate five points, one a major, but decided she'd have nothing to do with show biz. In obedience, however, Becky breezed right through her C.D.," relates Louise with pride. "She was entered in five shows and finished in four."

Sadly, the obedience ring is what has curtailed Louise's activities in recent years. While stewarding at an obedience trial, she fell as she tried to catch an errant dog, broke her hip, "and put an end to that."

Louise's first champion was Ch. Hil-Ray Imperial Princess. "I saw her finish her championship and had to have her," recalls Louise. Princess was in novice training and almost ready for obedience competition when Louise broke her hip. The cane Louise now must use has precluded further obedience work.

When the 14-year-old Princess and her old Scottie housemate Candy died within six weeks of each other after Louise retired to Arizona, she immediately looked for another Scottie. The chosen bitch turned out to be Ch. Pack Run Mariminx. Minx is Charlie's mother and finished with Bergit Coady in just six shows soon after Louise brought her home from Montgomery County.

"Charlie was out of Minx' first litter, which by this time you realize was also my first litter," points out Louise in concluding her rundown of her decades in dogs.

"What do you do for an encore?" wonders Louise. "When I got Minx, I knew I had something." In addition to Charlie and his champion sister Ch. Simonsez Raison d'Etre, the same litter produced Ch. Simonsez Bodacious Kirley.

"I hope I don't sound conceited," worries Louise Simon. "I'm very, very grateful, when I think of the people I've known and not known who've worked all their lives for a Westminster BOB, to have gotten one from my first litter. Let's face it, I was lucky."

"Charlie gets around more than I," tells Louise. He is campaigned by California handler Bergit Coady. Because she worried about New York's bad weather, Louise did not see his win at Westminster. He trumped that soon after with BOB at the Heart of America Specialty in Kansas City, followed by two Group 1s at all breed shows there.

The ultimate for Louise and Charlie has been his spring '86 Best in Show at the Sequoia Kennel Club in Tulare, Calif. She missed that victory, too, but looks forward to following Charlie's career in person when she moves back to Phoenix.

"Charlie has a precious personality," describes his owner. "Bergit has said, 'I love that little dog.'" Louise fondly recalls the times Charlie puts his paws up on her chair and "I ask him, 'Charlie, are you a happy boy?' He throws back his head like he's laughing."

"I'm so inexperienced I have no right to give anyone advice," demurs Louise Simon when asked for hints on how to win at Westminster. She does admit her philosophy on breeding dogs is different from that of many fanciers. "Most breed clubs' constitutions state that breeding should be done to improve the breed. I think that should read 'only' to improve the breed!"

1986 Westminster Terrier Facts

Among the 2592 entries from 48 states, the District of Columbia, Canada and Puerto Rico, there were 316 terriers. They represented 25 terrier breeds.

Almost universal among first-timers to the Westminster mystique is the sudden realization upon thumbing through the catalogue that "this is a special show!" The 351-page roster for 1986 was as regal as the catalogue's gold-embossed cover of royal purple.

Fifty-six percent of the dogs entered at Westminster this year were champions. It was the highest percentage of specials in the show's 110-year history.

Carrying this minutia further, 62% of the terrier entries were champions. It was eye-opening to discover that the latest edition of Westminster was not even a one-point show for Scotties. Indeed, it was so special that the one Scottish Terrier class bitch was followed into Ring 2 by eight specials.

Judging dogs is basically the same, be it in the USA, Canada or Britain. One looks for type first; for if we lose type, we no longer have that breed. As an example, a number of years ago, four of us judges, all well known and all terrier men, were standing around the superintendent's table after judging, waiting for the groups to start, when four dogs walked by: a Cairn, an Aussie, a Norwich, and a Scottie. I'd judged all four breeds and recognized the dogs, so I kept score. The others all guessed what breed each was. All were incorrect on all four.

Next, one looks for soundness, hoping against hope that he can find it in a typey dog. A great many people feel that soundness is the most important factor which should be looked for, and though it is indeed important, if its present in an untypey dog, its worthless. After all, there are plenty of sound dogs in the pound.

Then, as Percy Roberts once told me, you need a "little forgiveness".

Recognition of type and of soundness and the ability to apply them are the basic tools of a judge, no matter what breed one is judging, or where he is judging it.

The set-up of the ring and the format of the judges' book, even the classes that are offered vary to some extent from one authority to another as do the methods of computing championship credits; but let's forget these mechanics for the moment.

The real differences in judging in one country vs another lie in differences in the standards of a single breed in one country and another, as for example, the AKC approved standard vs that of the KC(England). Most of these differences are in detail rather than in substance, but some of these details can alter type and some of them can be identified as being due to Old Joe McGremlin's attempt to change the standard to better fit the dogs he has.

Let's narrow it down to specifics. The American standard, which all of you know by heart, says of size:

"Size and Weight (10 points): Equal consideration must be given to height, length of back, and weight. Height at shoulder for either sex should be about 10 inches. Generally, a well balanced Scottish Terrier dog of correct size should weigh from nineteen to twenty-two pounds and a bitch from eighteen to twenty-one pounds. The principal objective must be symmetry and balance."

The English Standard, on the other hand, states:

"Weight and size: The ideally made dog in hard show condition should weigh from 19 lbs. to 23 lbs.

Height at shoulder 10 to 11 inches."

Read these two standards and digest the information received and except for the wordiness of the American standard, they say essentially the same thing, the only real difference being that in England a slightly larger dog is acceptable as an ideal. Given the present situation that almost all our dogs are larger than the maximum, the smaller of the oversized dogs merits brownie points, in both countries, for size.

Let's look at the original standard for the breed, one written by people who had in mind not only the show qualities of their dogs, but who knew, of their own experience, the needs of the breed when put to his designated function. They said:

"Size: From fifteen to twenty pounds; the best weight being as near as possible eighteen pounds for dogs, and sixteen pounds for bitches when in condition for work."

Now let's go to what is said of the head. In America our mentors said:

"Skull(5 points): Long, of medium width, slightly domed and covered with short hard hair. It should not be quite flat, as there should be a slight stop or drop between the eyes.

Muzzle(5 points): In proportion to the length of skull, with not too much taper toward the nose. Nose should be black and of good size. The jaws should be level and square. The nose projects somewhat over the mouth, giving the impression that the upper jaw is longer than the lower. The teeth should be evenly placed, having a scissors or level, with the former being preferable."

In England, they say:

"Head and skull:

Without being out of proportion to the size of the dog, it should be long, the length of skull enabling it to be fairly wide and yet retain a narrow appearance. The skull is nearly flat and the cheek bones do not protrude. There is a slight, but distinct drop between the skull and foreface, just in front of the eyes. The nose is large—and, in profile, the line from the nose toward the chin appears to slope backwards."

Again, although the wording is different, the two standards say much the same thing. Although the American standard states flat out that the skull should be of medium width whereas the British implies the same thing though attributing that width to a secondary function of the length. Many people with whom I have talked, terrier people and non-terrier people alike, miss this nuance and look for an ideal Scottie head to be like that of a Fox Terrier, which "should not exceed 3½ inches in diameter at the widest part".

To put that into context, let's see what the old fellows had to say.

"1. Skull—Proportionately long, slightly domed and covered with short, hard hair about ¼ inch long or less. It should not be quite flat, as there should be a sort of stop or drop between the eyes.

2. Muzzle—Very powerful, and gradually tapering towards the nose, which should always be black and of a good size. The jaws should always be perfectly level, and the teeth square, though the nose projects somewhat over the mouth, which gives the impression of the upper jaw being longer than the under one."

Many people have commented on the "scale of points" attached to the end of our American standard. Some would like to remove these scales from all standards (a number of breeds have such a scale) claiming they unnecessarily elongate the standard, and, "no one uses them anyway". Others, and I'm one of them, say leave them alone, such a scale would making judging easier if it were present in all standards. They are guide lines for a judge as to what emphasis we breeders feel should be placed on a given part. We all know there are exceptional circumstances. On more than one occasion, when judging a group or even best in show, I've encountered no teeth, a number missing, or milk teeth only, when the standard called for large white teeth, and allotted but 5 points for the area. When questioned about it by the handler, who emphasized that this was a multiple best in show dog, and when I mentioned the state of the teeth, the comment has been, "but the teeth only count 5 points."

These "scales" are not absolute. If an otherwise perfect dog with 3 legs came into the ring, would one penalize him but 5 points (the quarters involved only counting 10 points for both) and put him over another dog with a few minor faults so that his total was only 94?

We don't use the "scale of points" now to the extent that we once did, but when the chips are down, when two essentially equal dogs come into the ring, the scale can and does help decide which fault is more serious, more important, than another.

Although the actual judging of those dogs who appear before a judge, be he American or British, is the same, even though two distinct standards are involved, the differences in championship computation seems to make a difference in the outcome of a given show. In America, rarely is a dog entered in more than one class, and champions are generally entered in the Best of Breed class, not competing for points. In Britain, there is no such class; champions are entered in the Open class and compete for the Challenge Certificate. British judges seem to feel that we expect the best of breed to come from that Best of Breed class only.

American judges in Britain are faced, on the other hand, with many classes they have never heard of and with many of the same dogs in several consecutive, or even skipped, classes. This can lead to a sense of panic. (Suppose I put dog A over dog B in the puppy dog class, then reverse it in novice, and reverse it again in limit—won't I look like an ass?) There's no need to worry, the steward will keep them in the proper order at one side of the ring. All you need to do is shuffle the new dogs into the proper slots. Unless, of course, the steward decides to pull a practical joke as happened to a friend of mine a few years ago.

Many people seem to feel that an imported judge, any imported judge, is superior to a domestic one, especially at speciality shows. This is true only to the extent that a greater drain is placed on the treasury by the greater airfare from Britain as compared to that from the next state. They have good judges, but so do we; they have poor judges, just as we do. There may be judges in Britain who are better, who have a better eye, than our average; but we have many who are superior to their average. Its an oft repeated statement, almost a cliché, that American Dog Shows and American judges are the best in the world, overall. Like our government, its not perfect, but its the best we've got today.

Ring Manners

Mrs. Evelyn Kirk

I've been asked to write about "Ring Manners" which, to me, is just a sub-title of "Common Courtesy". Not that I set myself up as a prime candidate for "Miss Manners" of 1986; I do think if everyone tried to be a little more thoughtful, life would be a lot more pleasant.

As far as the ring is concerned, I can remember a number of times when I was, shall we say, annoyed, because the judge was not paying attention. It is difficult to do a good job when he/she has one eye on his/her watch and the other on your dog; or, when he/she goes to ringside to chat; or, when you get an unsolicited, lame-brain excuse for not receiving the blue or purple ribbon. I vowed, if I ever became a judge, never to be rude, if I could help it. Have you ever had a smark-aleck reply to your warning that your bitch is very much in season; like, "Don't worry, I'm not going to breed her."?

Have you ever been run-up-on, stepped-on, or had your dog stepped on? You don't like that, do you? Then don't do it to anybody else. It's only common sense to place enough distance between your dog and the next, so there won't be any complications. It's smart to arrive early enough to become familiar with the judge's procedure. Believe me, it doesn't make a very good impression to ask, wide-eyed, "Down and back?", when you're in the middle of a line of ten. If you think you must play with a ball or squeaky toy to keep your dog's interest up, please don't roll it or toss it just when the other dog is about to be examined. Perhaps it is innocent in intent, but the ill will it generates is in direct proportion to the havoc it creates.

Don't ever pass up the opportunity to represent your breed in the group, either. Judges always wonder about absentees, especially if they know that the dog is there, at the show. Second-guessing is dangerous; you could second-guess yourself out of a nice win.

In other words, accept your wins and losses with grace. You don't have to thank the judge for that fourth place ribbon, but don't snatch it from his/her hand; or throw it down on the ground. That could get you in deep trouble. So could making snide remarks as you leave the ring. You see, all you have to do is use a little common sense, play by the rules, and do to others what you would have them do to you. Does that sound corny and full of baloney? If it does, you've got a lot to learn, probably the hard way.

STC of GREATER ATLANTA "Bagpiper Chatter"
Ruth Tryon, Editor 555 Tahoe Circle, Stone Mountain, GA 30083

The STCGA has had a busy and interesting Spring. We were most fortunate to have Dr. Alexander Duncan speak to us on VWD at one meeting. Dr. Duncan is deeply involved in research concerning human blood diseases and the VWD factor. He cleared up many questions that members had on this subject, and discussed many facets of the research and the problems in canine testing. This was one of the most valuable programs that we have had.

Our Specialty weekend of three shows was marked with fun and success. Our banquet was highlighted by a tremendously successful—for our needy treasury—Scottie item auction and sale and presentation of the Gaines Medal to Furney Powell, a long-time member of the club.

Under the direction of Debbie Mims, a grooming session was held and it covered not only "show" grooming but companion Scottie grooming also.

A pathetic Scottie turned up at the Humane Society and was promptly rescued by Linda Carroll, our Rescue Chairman, and through the efforts of Linda and her veterinarian, is now in a loving home, having been returned to health.

We plan a "vacation summer" with the main event our Annual picnic in August.

STC of the GREATER BALTIMORE AREA "Scottie Talk"
Margaret Young, Editor 1807 Arabian Way, Fallston, MD 21047

The 1986 Specialty was truly a great success. There was a gain in entries, with a good number of spectators adding to the excitement of the day. The judges, Mrs. Claribel Graham, Sweepstakes, and Mr. Robert Graham, Regular Classes, presented to the club critiques on the entries. Their remarks were beneficial, helpful, and encouraging. Placement winners are as follows:

Best in Sweepstakes: Uncanny's Undoubted, owned by Jane and John Anderson
Best of Breed: Ch. Sandreg's Novelist, owned by Carol and Don Platt
Best of Opposite Sex and Best of Winners: Thistle-Bank Southern Belle, owned by Pamela Floyd

Winners Dog: Quercus Never Never, owned by Gary and Susan Carr
Winners Bitch: Thistle-Bank Southern Belle, owned by Pamela Floyd

Club members have given grooming lessons to those who wish to improve their skills in getting their dogs ready for shows. We also are planning a handling session for prospective show people. Our club endeavors to assist not only show folks but also to improve the quality and behavior of all our Scotties.

Summer is a slow time, but not for the STCGD members who plan matches and a terrier trial. On July 19 there will be a match for all dogs, especially the pets who don't get out to the shows. They will be judged as to who has the best ears, tail, etc.—in parts, as there is something lovely in all Scottish Terriers.

Plans have already been laid for our 1987 Specialty which will be held the last Saturday in March, again at the Dayton Airport Inn. Our class judge is Neatha Robinson, and Sweepstakes will be Herb Quarles. We are looking forward to the biggest and best show ever. We hope all exhibitors will be our guests in 1986.

STC of GREATER DENVER "The Scotsman"

Faith Erlacher, Editor

The STC of Greater Denver held its annual Match on July 6, 1986. Judge Karen Jennings made the following placements, from an entry of 20 dogs:

Best Junior: Roughcastle Tin Soldier, owned by Faith Erlacher

Best Senior: Jo-Den's Amber Amanda, owned by Dennisia Aragon and Elizabeth Cooper

Best in Match: Jo-Den's Amber Amanda

The STCGD's Ways and Means Committee is working hard on many projects—ceramics, and a multitude of other items. Our match trophy list was as follows: Best in Match was a

STC of GREATER HOUSTON "Skirl"
James Justice 12010 S. Downe Ct. Houston, TX 77089

Plans are being finalized for the STCH Specialty on August 7, 1986. The Sweepstakes Judge is Christine Cook, and the Regular Class Judge is Ruth Johnson. A banquet will be held on August 8, 1986, at the Celler Dour on Stella Link.

Preparation for the next grooming seminar to be held in January, 1987, is underway. The club has been in contact with several professional handlers and the selection will be made shortly.

The club is also trying to co-sponsor Dr. Jean Dodds for a blood disorder seminar for next year in conjunction with Harris County Veterinary Medical Association.

The new show chairman for the 1987 Specialty will be Jim Justice with John Blake as assistant.

STC of GREATER LOUISVILLE "Scot's Rap"
Sarah Dye, Editor 2214 Tyler Road, Louisville, KY 40205

The STC of Louisville's first Specialty show will be held August 29, 1986, with Robert Graham judging. Headquarters will be the Holiday Inn-Fern Valley. Contact Show Secretary Joan Bignon, 217 Wood Road, Louisville, 40222, for details.

The Balck and White Match was a great success. Judge Gordon Talbott made the following placements:

Best Puppy—Hughcrest Daiquiri Doll, owned by Chris and Judy Hughes
Best Opposite Sex Puppy—Hughcrest Skywalker, owned by Chris Hughes
Best Adult in Match—Stickler's Colonel Lady Diana, owned by Margaret Brown and Dan Stickler

GREATER MIAMI STC "Scotch Piper"
Marjorie Cohen, Editor 1429 SE 6th Street Deerfield Beach, FL 33441

The Greater Miami Scottish Terrier Club will hold its 28th Annual Specialty Show on Friday, December 5, 1986, at the Dade County Youth Fair Building, Miami, Florida. Subject to AKC approval, our judge will be Bart Lapin for Regular and Non-regular classes, and Mrs. Berenda Perez-Gili will judge Sweepstakes. There will be two other shows that weekend at the same location—Fort Lauderdale and Miami Kennel Clubs.

The STCGM will hold its Annual Celebration to award the club's trophies to members who have earned them on August 17, 1986. Grooming sessions are also planned, with the next one scheduled for August 9th.

STC of NORTHERN OHIO "The Clan News"

MY DOG'S CUP

Hurray for his Sierra cup which travels with us everywhere.
When something needs to be lapped up, there's no container to compare.
On arid hikes when moisture's found it's used to scrape a water hole;
as liquid fills the hollowed ground his cup becomes his dinner bowl.
Out biking, when we're far away and desperate to quench our thirst, if we should find some lemonade,
well-mannered, he lets me drink first.
And when, upon a summer's day,
our work is done and we get paid, the stricter of us does admit it's fair to share a common treat;
his cup sure helps him beat the heat:
One scoop of ice cream—perfect fit.

EDITORIAL

Thank you to all who have helped and encouraged The Bagpiper. Our official publication continues to flourish according to the needs and wishes of our membership. Please make your wishes known to the editor, and you will contribute a very real and positive influence towards our goal of excellent, unbiased communication. Never be afraid to come forth and voice a complement, complaint, or suggestion.

The expanded format of The Bagpiper reflects the basics of our organization: who we are, where we are, what we do...our common link being our beloved Scottish Terrier. It is through our love of this little animal that we know each other and share our knowledge and concerns for "our" magnificent breed.

for Trouble when they went to New England...
But there she was!!

Anstamm Here Comes Trouble
(Ch. Anstamm Venture On X Burntlands Bewitching Hour)

"Pandora" is shown at her first show with co-owner Cindy Cooke winning the Sweepstakes at the Scottish Terrier Club of New England Specialty under breeder-judge Gayle Gaines. Pandora was also Winners Bitch from the 6-9 class under judge Ken McDermott. Special thanks to breeders Janet & Judy Campbell for selecting Ch. Anstamm Venture On to sire this litter.
