was a major participant in the STCA

Please delete the following from document titled "Sponsorship of Applicants For Membership," which was sent to you in April.

2 (g) not sponsor an applicant with who they or anyone else in their household co-owns a Scottish Terrier.

It was inadvertently left in the final document as approved by the Board. We regret any inconvenience this may have caused.

If by the time this issue is received, you have not paid your dues, and you wish to maintain membership, rush your dues by express mail. With so long a time to get your dues in it is easy to forget, or after intending to for so long came to think you have. You might want to double check. June 1 is deadline.

The same is true concerning trophy funds, the raffle and items which the STCA, Ways & Means has for sale. Check this issue for those; i.e., thank you, don't forget.

DEADLINE FOR SUMMER ISSUE

The deadline for the summer issue for non-rotating specialty matters will be July 15; and for advertisements and copy pertaining to that weekend, July 22, 1991.

A LETTER TO THE PRESIDENT

Dear Mrs. McArthur,

My fall issue of The Bagpiper just arrived last night and after reading it, there were a few items I could not let go by without comment.

Loss of Show Hotel for Montgomery Weekend: After reading the article by Jackie Seelbach I was disgusted with the behaviour of the minority of STCA members that have now ruined things for the rest of the club. Since it is known who owned the dogs who were allowed to continually bark all night and which members were in the damaged rooms, that would be a good place to start. I recommend that these members be ejected from the club until they can demonstrate responsible behaviour. Gentle warnings are obviously not working and, by all counts, things will just be repeated next year (if some hotel is foolish enough to let the STCA have its headquarters there), unless we demonstrate a willingness to police ourselves.

I am an owner of two pet Scotties and I have worked very hard to make sure that my dogs are good representatives of the breed. They have stayed in many hotel and motel rooms without incident. I have always felt it was my responsibility to make sure that once we've left, no one would know that my dogs had even been there. It distresses me to learn that some of the breeders (the people we pet Scottie owners look up to) would be so thoughtless.

Yours sincerely,
Lynn Pritchard

INSIDE SITE FOUND FOR SWEEPSTAKES

Mrs. Jackie Seelbach, vice-president and show chairman, has found an ideal site for the sweepstakes of the annual meeting, the Lulu Shriners Temple, that permits having the Sweepstakes on Saturday.

The Shriner's Temple is on Butler Avenue, and the Pennsylvania Turnpike is visible from the Temple's parking lot. To reach it, take the Plymouth Meeting exit from the turnpike, which is the exit just west of the Ambler exit. More precise information will be mailed at a later date.

Mrs. Seelbach said that she was told by the Lulu Temple's secretary that we can do almost anything we want, so long as we leave the place as we found it. Heavy grooming should be avoided. If weather permits, do grooming outside. Also, dogs should be watered and exercised before arriving at the temple. Only a snack before sweepstakes.

The Lulu Temple is so spacious, she said, that there is ample space for sales tables. The charge will be $50.00 per 6 ft. table. Interested parties may contact Mrs. Seelbach.

ADDITIONAL MOTEL ROOMS FOUND

Additional, and less expensive accommodations to supplement the West Chester Inn have been found, Mrs. Jackie Seelbach, vice-president, announced. Fifty rooms at the George Washington Inn - Willow Grove, have been blocked for the STCA. This motel is located at Exit 27 of the Pennsylvania Turnpike, which is one exit east of the Ambler exit. The rate is $40.00 a night. contact Ann McClain at the motel for a reservation.

This motel, while convenient to Ambler, is about a 45 minute drive to the West Chester Inn, which will be the headquarters motel, and where the banquet and meetings will be held. The room rate there is $265 for Sunday night and two other nights.

Another alternative is the Sheraton - Great Valley, north of West Chester on Route 202, but is not available for dogs. The cost is $72.00 per night.

• A MESSAGE FROM OUR PRESIDENT •

Dear Members:

Rumors have been flying! Rumors that this board is reformatting the standard! Rumors that this is being done against the membership vote of the October '89 directors meeting! Rumors, as defined by Webster - "a current story passing from one person to another without any known authority for the truth of it." Rumors spread like a forest fire and cause as much destruction.

The facts are - in 1989 the membership was sent a letter inviting them to attend the October '89 board meeting to provide their input on the American Kennel Club's request to cut and paste our standard to conform with their program for video production and judge's education. Because of the delayed mailing of this letter most members did not receive it until after the scheduled meeting, nor did half of the directors. The members who attended this meeting numbered twelve (12). The decision was made by the directors not to accept the American Kennel Club's suggestion to reformat primarily because they felt to rearrange sentences and change words would effect the priority of our standard. There was no mailing of ballots to the membership requesting their vote. The few who attended offered their opinions. This small gatherings' input cannot be considered the will of the membership.

At our October 1990 meeting the American Kennel Club sent a representative to speak with the Board of Directors. Again, they requested we reformat, however they confirmed that any changes in word and structure be that of the STCA. This board has reconsidered the request. Is it rational to ignore a common sense suggestion from the American Kennel Club simply because we do not want them to "tell us what to do"? We are not being intimidated by the American Kennel Club, there have not been any "strong arm tactics", we simply feel their suggestions worthy of our consideration.

Yes, this board has worked on a reformation and without changing any words of our standard, however in the process we have found sections that seriously need to be addressed. In researching the Scottish Terrier Standard of old both from here and from England, it is apparent that any areas left out were so self-evident to the committees and breeders they did not feel it necessary to include, assuming they were common knowledge. Today our membership is in excess of 1600 with many of our members new to the breed. We feel it is essential that all areas of our standard should be spelled out completely leaving no room for conjecture. Done properly and with your support, there should not be the need to have a book printed to clarify our standard.

We are very much aware of each members constitutional rights and have never had any intention of ignoring them as "rumors have stated". When our committee completes its review the membership will be advised of our recommendation. What we do ask of you, our membership, is when you receive our recommendations you carefully review the logic behind them. We trust that all members will vote, and each of you will vote your own conscience.

SUMMARY OF THE MINUTES MEETING OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE S.T.C.A.

February 16-17, 1991

Holiday Inn-Centreplex
Orlando, Florida

President Betty McArthur called the meeting to order at 9:05 a.m. Officers and Directors present were:

President Mrs. Betty McArthur
Vice President Mrs. Jackie Seelbach
Recording Secretary Mrs. Helen Prince

Delegate to the A.K.C. Dr. T. Allen Kirk, Jr.

Directors Mrs. Marjorie Cohen
Mrs. Shirley Justus
Mrs. Ruth Ann Krause
Mr. Bill Martin
Mrs. Isabelle McCool
Mr. Mel Musson
Ms. Robin Starr
Mrs. Ed Watkins

Officers and Directors absent: Mrs. Diane Zollinger, Mr. Gilbert Robinson

The minutes of the October, 1990, meetings, were accepted with two corrections:

- (1) Add under Officers and Directors present - "Immediate Past President Ms. Kathi Brown" and
- (2) add under NEW BUSINESS - Regional Clubs Meeting at Rotating Specialties - "Regional Clubs may ask for one (a Regional Clubs Reps meeting) if they desire, at Rotating Specialties."

PRESIDENT'S REPORT: President McArthur brought the Board up to date on some ongoing business. She received correspondence from the Bull Terrier Club of America asking our support in helping them fight having a dog disqualified in Obedience because of necessary surgery to have its tail removed. The AKC ruling considers the dog has been changed in appearance by artificial means. The Board agreed to support them.

A note of thanks will also be sent to Caryl Alten who wrote to American Express expressing her displeasure that they were advertising buying puppies at pet shops with the American Express card.

VICE PRESIDENT'S REPORT: Jackie Seelbach distributed a report on the upcoming Rotating Specialty Show in June. Both the Montgomery County report and the Houston report were not complete because all financial data is not in. Robin Starr suggested that all committee chairmen who collect or spend money should be required to submit a financial report to the National Show Chairman so that a preliminary report could be prepared earlier and figures could be corroborated.

The A.K.C. GAZETTE has requested permission to cover the 1991 Rotating Specialty at the Great Western Show. Ruth Ann Krause will contact them for the Board.

Montgomery County Sweepstakes, 1991, was discussed. The West Chester Inn will not allow Sweepstakes outside as in previous years. The rental for the indoor facility could not be confirmed as the West Chester Inn required sound barriers be placed completely around the room. Prices for the sound barriers were not yet determined, but the cost of these barriers would be an S.T.C.A. expense. Show Chairman Jackie Seelbach will obtain the price of renting the sound barriers. If it is not within reason, she will contact Dr. Deubler to request having the Sweepstakes on Sunday in conjunction with our National Specialty. Jackie will keep looking for another place for 1992!

Ann Rogers Clark has requested not to share her judging assignment with a second judge this year, so we will again have to wait until the entries close to choose an overflow judge. Members should note that it may be "tricky" in juggling dogs in both Sweeps and Regular Classes, as in the past, so remember this when you submit your entries, if Sweeps are on Sunday.

CORRESPONDING SECRETARY'S REPORT: In the absence of the Corresponding Secretary, President McArthur read selected correspondence. A complete written documentation of all activity since October was sent to the meeting by Diane.

Permission to hold specialty shows has been granted to the following clubs:

San Francisco Bay STC	April 13, 1991
STC of California	June 23, 1991
STC of Greater Louisville	August 24, 1991
STC of Michigan	September 7, 1991
STCA - MONTGOMERY COUNTY	October 6, 1991
STC of Northern Ohio	October 26, 1991

In response to questions by Regional Clubs, an instruction sheet for using the AKC "Turn-around" form will be sent to Regional Clubs.

All Committee Chairmen had accepted except Obedience Match Chairman, who had other obligations. No new appointment was made at this time.

RECORDING SECRETARY'S REPORT: Helen Prince reported that the Roster had finally been mailed, and she had saved the Club some money by doing all of the graphics herself. Roster changes which come out with dues notices will be printed in the Spring BAGPIPER.

Since most Committee Chairmen are now preparing written reports for the Board, it was the consensus of the Board that the Recording Secretary will keep a file of all committee reports for a three year period, for reference.

TREASURER'S REPORT: No report. A financial statement will be printed in the next BAGPIPER

A.K.C. DELEGATE'S REPORT: Dr. Kirk reported on the following:

(1) The vote on changing the rules for the Bred-By-Exhibitor class will be presented to the Delegates in March, with a final vote in June.

(2) AKC proposed a time limit for litter registration and individual registrations, which is designed to help to curb the activity of puppy mills. The rules passed in December and clubs have been sent the guidelines.

(3) A resolution was effected between the Senior Conformation Judges Association and the AKC on who had the right to hold judges' education schools. Subsequently, it was acknowledged that it is the AKC's right to hold these events. Several have been planned for the summer.

(4) Dr. Kirk wrote to several persons who have a long time association with S.T.C.A. in hopes that they can help us find more information about past presidents.

(5) Morley Thornton's suit against AKC was denied by the New York Supreme Court.

(6) AKC revised its By-Laws regarding the seating of delegates.

(7) The AKC Board approved lure coursing as an AKC event. This may help our cause for the recognition of working terriers.

SELECTED COMMITTEE REPORTS

Annual Awards: Izzie McCool stated that letters had been sent to all donors of awards asking them if they wished to continue for 1991. Dr. & Mrs. Kirk have indicated that they will relinquish the BALACHAN Bred-By-Exhibitor Award. An appeal for sponsors will be sent to the members and a donor will be voted on in June.

Applicants for the Obedience Awards were read. Letty Passig was chosen to give the CD Award, and Ruth Tryon was chosen to give the Utility Dog Award.

The Scottish Terrier Club of California requested permission to present a Medallion to the breeder of the Best of Breed winner at both Rotating and Montgomery County Shows.

Motion - Seelbach/Krause to accept. Passed unanimously.

Education Seminar: Chairman Mel Musson stated that he had researched all avenues of approach as suggested by the Board and by the previous committee. It was the consensus of the Board that it will not be feasible to do a seminar at this time.

1991 Handbook: Editor Muriel Lee reported that it should be ready for mailing by early June. In view of the upcoming Centennial year, 2000, Muriel Lee was appointed Centennial Yearbook chairman.

Dog World Ad: Bill Martin stated that 363 packets were sent in 1990, and suggested that Regional Clubs might be able to use the flyer which was created by the Michigan STC for their information inquiries.

Judges Education: The Board would like to pursue having the Regional Clubs help with judges education events. Guidelines will be created.

Regional Clubs Representatives: A written report from Chairman Maxine Stickler was distributed. It was sent to Regional Clubs and is printed elsewhere in this issue.

Health: The Board approved an excellent health questionnaire to be sent to the members through the Regional Clubs. Pat Farmer is looking forward to a strong membership response.

Rescue: A report was read from Greg Bobbs. The Board approved his doing a quarterly newsletter.

BAGPIPER: Editor Richard Hickman sent a written report to the Board. He is trying to pursue the use of 2nd class mail as a way of speedier delivery at the lower cost.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

Re-formatting of Scottish Terrier Standard: Using our approved wording and the format of a standard as suggested by the AKC, the Board re-organized the Official Breed Standard. The results will be sent to the American Kennel Club for approval before being sent to the membership for a vote.

Recognizing that there are areas not covered by our Standard which may want to be considered, a Committee was appointed to discuss possible points of revision or addition. Dr. Kirk will chair this Committee.

National Sweepstakes Judge List: Ed Watkins will compile the information he has received to date and forward it to the Corresponding Secretary.

Revision of Membership Application, etc.: Co-Chairs Shirley Justus and Mel Musson presented a packet for consideration by the Board. They noted that they had compiled information from many breed clubs. Motion Justus/Musson to accept the new Membership Application, Code of Ethics, and Sponsor's Contract. Passed unanimously. A notice of this action will be sent to the membership by the Recording Secretary.

New Clubs Reports: Jackie Seelbach reported that Tampa is looking to have their first Specialty Show in January, 1991.

Betty McArthur reported that the files for the Pittsburgh STC had been reviewed by her, Corresponding Secretary Diane Zollinger, and Liaison Helen Prince. Based on information received, and information that was missing, it was decided to place them on probation for a period of one (1) year, beginning March 1, 1991. They will not be given permission to hold a Specialty Show until this sanction is lifted. Motion - Justus/McCool. Passed unanimously.

A letter, with Constitution and By-Laws, and a member roster, was received from Cathy Kanna requesting permission to form a Regional Club in Utah. Permission was granted, and Shirley Justus was appointed Liaison.

NEW BUSINESS

Nominating Committee - 1991: The Nominating Committee was selected.

Judge Selection - Rotating 1992: Judges for Regular Classes and Sweepstakes were selected, with publication of names pending acceptance.

Anstamm Memorial Fund Donation: The Board selected Dr. Schall, DVM from Michigan State University, who is doing research on Molecular Genetic Diagnosis of Scottish Terrier VWD as the recipient of $500. It will be awarded at the 1991 Annual meeting.

Election of New Members: Those persons whose names appear in the January, 1991, BAGPIPER were elected into membership. Their memberships will be effective February 22, 1991. A list of prospective members was sent from the Corresponding Secretary, and was approved to be printed in the Spring BAGPIPER.

Greater Denver STC/Rocky Mountain STC: The Corresponding Secretary sent a letter to both clubs requesting a final disposition on reconciling the dispute. Based on information and responses received, the following action was taken: Motion - Watkins/Musson that the STCA remove our recognition of Rocky Mountain STC and recognize the STC of Greater Denver as the official STCA Regional Club in the area. Passed unanimously.

Constitution/By-Laws: A review of our Constitution and By-Laws was done by the American Kennel Club. Suggestions for updating some of the sections were sent to the Board. The Board approved a number of changes and additions. These changes/additions will be sent to the membership for a vote as soon as they are reviewed by the AKC.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned. The next meeting of the Board will be held on Thursday, June 20, 1991, in Monrovia, CA.

Respectfully submitted,

Helen A. Prince

Candi Serrano, secretary, 12690 Arabian Lane, Galt, CA 95632

SFBSTC had a Scottie information table at the Golden Gate Kennel Club show Feb. 2/3. The table display and photo album showed various activities of our club. Other features were video tapes, information packets about the breed and the club, plus STCA green handbooks for a $1 donation. The wonderful photo display was put together by Tom and Linda Lee with photos from Lynn Kelley and others. The VCR tapes included puppy mill coverage, an obedience presentation, the AKC Scottish Terrier Standard, and Westminster K.C. when "Shannon" won Best in Show. The information packet was put together by Lynn Kelley and Mike and Candi Serrano and included material donated by Ken and Betty McArthur. Golden Gate was a very busy and successful two days!

"Before You Call the Vet" -- Things You Can Do to Help Your Dog in an Emergency" was the seminar sponsored in February by STCGA. The program was aimed at pet owners in the North Atlanta area and also featured a variety of tips for daily dog maintenance.

Several more Scotties have been rescued and placed in good homes.

Recent club programs have included "The Pet Food Lottery," by Dr. Tom Huber, University of Georgia College of Veterinary Medicine; and a slide program on eye care and eye diseases by veterinary ophthalmologist Dr. Dan Brodgon.

Activity in Atlanta has centered on preparations for our April 14 Specialty. For those who have never come down, it is a great time to be among the dogwoods, azaleas and five-point majors. Our hospitality room after the Macon show April 12 featured a well stocked buffet at the La Quinta in Norcross. The Specialty Banquet was April 13 in Lilburn following the Atlanta K.C. show. A lucky winner now has the lovely needlepoint Christmas stocking made by Ann Schumann for our Specialty raffle.

New officers were elected at the March meeting. They are: Carl Williams, president; Jan Long, vice president; Paul Ludwig, treasurer; Tom Anderson, recording secretary; Ginger Wiggs, corresponding secretary; and board of directors, Greg Bobbs, Mike Cook, Ginny Czerniawski, Dick Hall and Meg Owens.

The Specialty drew 25 entries for Sweepstakes judge Kathi Brown and 53 entries for Regular Class judge Ronald Krohne. Winners were:

In early February we had our annual Dog Night at the Movies. It was at the home of Jeanne Kiltie in Birmingham, and more than 50 attended. Jean Gibney, Sandy Barth and Cynthia Wallgren chaired the event. Everyone was asked to bring a Best Home Video, Best Scottie Outfit, Best Scottish Baked Goods, Best Amateur Dog Photo. The results were something to behold. The winning video is a classic. Added attractions were the STCM 1990 Specialty video, an exhibit of Scottie collectibles and a raffle. Each person there also sent a message to a soldier, sailor or marine in the Persian Gulf on Valentines provided by the club.

Margie Cooke has given STCM another painting, as super as her one for our 1990 raffle. Flyers, photos of it and raffle tickets will go out soon. Last year our net raffle proceeds went to Michigan State University College of Veterinary Medicine for research to find a molecular genetic method of testing for VWD. We donated $3,000 to that work. We will make another donation to Michigan State this year.

"Briar Rose" is pictured winning her first 3 pt Major and group placement in the U.S. Excelling in type, movement and balance, this striking brindle Scottie has been recognized on both sides of the border by such long-time terrier judges as Edward Loebe (pictured), Stephen Shaw, William Bergum, Tom Gately, Jean & Glenn Fancy, Joe Tacker & Peter Smith, among others. She placed in the top 10 of the breed in Canada the first two years she was shown.

Special note by Cynthia Wallgren: It is very, very discouraging that we have heard from only four sister clubs and five individuals in answer to Barbara DeSaye's letter encouraging donations to this VWD research. She sent a letter to each club and published a writeup in the Fall Bagpiper.

Barbara and her committee are working with Dr. William Schall at Michigan State. They have located a bleeder puppy which has been sent to Dr. Jean Dodds' laboratory in New York. They also found another puppy from the bleeder's litter, from which Dr. Schall will take blood samples. There were eight puppies in the litter, so you can see it is taking a lot of time and energy to track them all down. These "backyard breeders" have since sold the dam and sire and very glibly stated they could be used for breeding. We have been unable to find the purchasers.

After many years of hard work and successful matches, the GPSTC was finally licensed by the American Kennel Club in 1990. STCNE kicked off the 1991 calendar of events with a well advertised, informative luncheon to which dog owners and members of other area dog clubs were invited. Speaker for the well attended, free event was Ray McSoley, canine behaviorist who has worked through a major veterinary training facility, Angell Memorial Hospital. McSoley is author of "Dog Tales," a book featuring techniques to solve a myriad of canine problems.

The club's spring match was April 14, with a fajita lunch prepared by our gourmet cook in residence, Donna Cone.

STCNE annual awards were presented in November to:

Blueberry Hills Most Best of Breeds and Arnault B. Edgerly Best of Breed (Specialty) -- Phyllis Kuhn for Ch. Sugar Bush Sauci Sally
Ch. Briarglen Brocade Memorial (Specialty Winners Bitch) -- Carol Ames for Ch. Amescot Chatterbox

Sona Failte Obedience Challenge Trophy -- Raymond Rinald for Rocket and Rye CDX
Gaines Good Sportsman Award -- Marge Guppy

STCNE has lost another true lover of our breed, Mrs. Marjorie Guppy of Evergreen Kennels. A number of members attended a memorial service for Marge at First Parish Unitarian Church in Canton.

"The Plaid Piper" is being published again after a lapse of more than a year. Carol Alten and Sandy Eckhardt have taken over as editors. Their first issue in February featured an obedience training article by member Laurie Johanson, an article about the club's new rescue program, and an enlightening reprint about pet overpopulation from the national Humane Society NEWS entitled "Just One Litter."

Groundwork completed for the club's rescue program includes:

- finding two foster homes for temporary boarding
- establishing a waiting list of permanent homes (many Wee Scots members volunteered)
- a veterinarian who will provide free professional services for rescue dogs, with the club paying for materials only
- the promise of dog food and dented crates from a feed store

STCC member Gert Conger will assist in the rescue program. One way the club will raise rescue money is by encouraging donations in honor of, or in memory of, a special Scot or his owner. The club has printed cards to send to the honoree announcing the donation. Application for adoption, questionnaire, certificate of surrender, release of liability and follow-up forms have been developed for use in the rescue program.

One of the first dogs to benefit from STCC rescue is Woofie. His owners lived in an "up-scale neighborhood" and had bought the dog because he had a "classic silhouette." Because of friction between 4-year-old Woofie and the couple's toddler, the owners told club rescue workers in December that they had one week to place Woofie, or he would be destroyed. Thanks to STCC, Wofie is in a new home with Scottie buddy "Mac." As the newsletter put it: "The day that Woofie was placed may have been cold, grey and blustery, but as far as we were concerned, it was sunny and warm when we walked out of his new home. We were there for Woofie, and that's an awfully good feeling."

If sending a trophy donation and not having the check clear for months screws up your bookkeeping and makes you just a little crazy, you are not alone. To avoid holding checks for longer than necessary and hopefully to increase raffle ticket sales and other donations from across the country, we have made a simple change to the STCC SOP. Each chairman who handles incoming funds (advertising, trophies, raffles, etc.) receives a number of STCC bank account deposit slips. When the chairman has received six to ten checks or a week has gone by, he will complete a deposit slip, make copies of the checks and deposit slip, and then make the deposit directly to the STCC account. Copies are sent to or retained for the treasurer. The result is that the club has these funds available for use, and you won't pull out your hair while trying to balance your checkbook.

STCNY's annual dinner was April 7. New officers elected there are: Jackie Seelbach, president; Russell Somma, vice president; Karen Hansen, secretary; Christine Hepler, treasurer; and board members Bill Berry, Bill de Villeneuve, Susan Finn, Eric Burgess and Richard Hiller.

Annual trophy awards were presented at the dinner. Recipients were: Albert L. Peterson Memorial--Best of Breed: Ch. Duff-De Pac Man, owned by Bill de Villeneuve; Helen Massaker Pawley--Best Opposite Sex: Ch. Duff-De Lord James, owned by Bill de Villeneuve; Ram Tree Bred-By-Exhibitor: Ravenrock Stepping Out, owned by Marion and Fred Krupp and Richard Hiller; and Polly Packard Memorial--Puppy: Duff-De Fanci Nancy, owned by Greg Salkow and Bill de Villeneuve. STCGNY members finished eight new published champions in 1990.

Club member Marion Krupp has donated limited edition prints for sale at our Specialty dinner May 4 to benefit our Scottie rescue. (STCGNY rescue efforts have placed eight dogs so far this year.) Also donated for auction at the dinner is Marion Krupp's museum framed etching "Standing Tall," which at the 1991 Art Show at the Dog Show in Wichita, Ks., won first place among limited edition prints as well as the award donated by Montgomery County Kennel Club for best portrayal of a terrier.

A representative of Ciba-Geigy will give a presentation to the club on the new heartworm product, Interceptor, at a spring meeting. Our annual summer picnic will be Aug. 11, at Parsippany, NY. With our Scots and entire families participating, the picnic historically brings out the biggest crowd of the year.

Did you wonder who the Scotties on the cover of the Dec., 1990, AKC GAZETTE were? Sitting on the left is STCGNY member Richard Hiller's Ravenrock Fancy Colors (co-owned by Adrian Hryckowian). The other Scot is Ch. Lochlan Rock 'n Rye, owned by Dawn Martin and B. Everitt.

The January meeting was a showing of the match video. Also in January, STCGD participated in an all-breed showcase sponsored by the Colorado Dog Fanciers Association at Buckingham Mall. It was decided in February to have a supported Scottie entry at the Plum Creek K.C. show of 1992 in conjunction with the national Skye Terrier Specialty there. The April meeting is to be a video of last September's Irish-Scottish Festival by that group's chairman of canine events.

The Scottie Rescue Committee, chaired by Pat Gruda, has assisted in placing six rescued Scotties in the recent past.

We have welcomed seven new members this year. A committee has been formed to invite members of the former Rocky Mountain STC to join STC of Greater Denver.

The morning started with coffee and apple fritters provided by Harry and Donna Erskine; then it was down to hard work. Cathy Kanna provided lunch. Two weeks later we had our second seminar and were ready for the next stripping lesson. Our third seminar by Shirley Fryer was April 20. Scottie Rescue at Work: eight-month-old Scottie puppy Abbey was rescued recently from the Anne Arundle County Humane Society. She is now in a new home thanks to joint efforts of STCGBA members.

Scottish foods served at our January meeting were delicious and interesting. Hats off to those brave club members who prepared the food from scratch--shortbread, scones, Scotch eggs, Tatties and Neeps; and to those who purchased Scottish food--haggis, smoked salmon, etc. Scottish music and various publications and catalogues added a special flair.

More good food was planned for the March 17 St. Patrick's Day meeting: corned beef and cabbage, of course, plus other Irish edibles. Members also were asked to bring favorite puppy or dog raising/training books to the March meeting to share ideas. A "panel of experts" was on hand to help solve tough dog problems.

Plans are progressing for the April 19 STCGBA Specialty. For the first time, the club will be selling Scottie items there on consignment for club members, with 20% of the proceeds going to STCGBA. Our Specialty raffle items are: first, wrought iron sign; second, Scottie blanket; third, ceramic Scottie. Judges will be Walter Goodman, regular classes; and Janis Chapman, Sweepstakes.

In April, 1991, STCGB will host the STCA Rotating Specialty along with our own annual Specialty on the Cherry Blossom Circuit. Be with us and enjoy the beautiful countryside of Hunt Valley's horse country and the hospitality of Maryland!

Spring is finally here, and after a winter weather break our club is ready to go again. We recently held our first Go-to Ground practice. Our field trial will be June 1 and our annual match June 9.

We have many new members, and most have expressed an interest in showing their dogs. Our grooming sessions/potluck dinners at Betty Lou and Larry Breese's have been attended by many new members. The novices are doing a great job with their Scots. We have had anywhere from 20 to 35 people at each grooming class. There was a fun match at Frying Pan Park in February attended by 13 Scotties, all of them dogs from our club that had attended grooming class.

Our April meeting featured attorney James Eisenhower discussing dogs' rights in the event of owners' demise. Programs for February and March were: Dr. Pan Ray, Virginia Technological College of Veterinary Medicine, speaking on nutritional needs of dogs at different stages of life; and Betty Lou Breese and Kendra Lovette, speaking on the new AKC standard and STCGW club history.

The following annual awards were won by STCGW club members:

Working Terrier Award: Letty and Dick Passig, Munro's Dark Chunk o'Chocolate; Vicki Campbell, Campbell's Gae Brenna; Cecelia Colglazier, Munro's Betsy, SpCh, Fch; Jane Filkens, Angus; Jim Frey, Hiwood Golden Cleopatra B; Wayne and Joyce Kim, Ch. OBEDIENCE

LET'S TALK ABOUT TRAINING

by Eileen Childress

It's my opinion a vast improvement has taken place in the procedures in obedience training compared to all the harsh training we encountered several years ago. The hard force methods are no longer taught in the better schools. Today you train your dog with more praise, love and reward with a treat, for a job well done. Combining the above, your dog gives you that attention required once ready to enter the obedience ring. What a delight to see a Scot entering the ring, happy, eager and ready to do a job pleasing to all who are watching him.

This brings up the importance of checking out the different obedience training schools, before enrolling. The larger cities usually have a number of schools to select from. Unfortunately, those who live in rural areas may find this a problem, therefore my suggestion is to purchase some of the top trainers books, which have excellent illustrations and guidelines in each exercise, this could be a start. If there are others in your area, maybe you all can arrange to meet, work your dogs together. This would give your dog the opportunity to socialize and be around other dogs and people.

Another suggestion, attend obedience trials, sit and watch the different classes, at the same time observe the manner in which different exhibitors show and handle their dogs. Quite often one is able to pick up a few pointers, you select the one you prefer. Obedience people are a friendly group, maybe someone would be happy to answer any questions you might have to ask.

In most areas, the top obedience schools arrange to hold a seminar each year, with a qualified trainer, who conducts their school elsewhere. These trainers are top competitors, walking off with many, many high in trials. They must be doing something right, we are all anxious to learn their methods.

We are fortunate on the West Coast, Northwest, Oregon and California in having a number of good trainers, who conduct their own schools. The Chicago area has a lot of recognized and outstanding trainers, some are judges who continue to conduct seminars.

The foundation of the GAINES Regionals and Classics are headed by many in the Chicago area. Here in Seattle, we have held two Gaines events, the first in 1982 a Regional, which I had the pleasure of chairing the show, then in 1987 we put on a Classic, both were very successful. The Gaines trials have been extremely helpful in educating the obedience people. The standard of our obedience exhibitors scores have greatly improved. There is a tremendous amount of work and many, many projects to raise the monies required to put on such an event. What a great experience, I would urge anyone who has the opportunity to become involved.

As I close, must admit, I have just enrolled to attend an Obedience seminar and workshop, (your dogs included) presented by a gentleman from England, who has been top winner in obedience at Crufts shows. (who knows maybe this might be something to share with you in the future.)

THANKYOU, AUSTRALIA!

By Shirley Justus

Keith and Trish Lovell, Cathy Scotton, Carol and Warren Goldworthy and many more warm and generous Australians made our trip a memorable one. We could not imagine a trip that could top our trip to Crufts, but this was it.

The show that we judged was an all breed championship show, near Melbourne, the Canine Museum Foundation, affiliated with the Kennel Control Council. I judged Scottish Terriers and Bill judged the rest of the Terrier breeds and the group. Having studied the Australian Scottish Terrier standard I was not surprised to find a larger Scottie. The general quality was excellent and I was particularly impressed with the bitches. Champions are included in the general classes and I was to place the classes 1,2,3 no 4th and select a Best of Breed. There was no best opposite sex just a runner up, either sex. My Best of Breed was Ch. Doelea Heather, a compact, balanced dark brindle bitch and my runner up was a flashy silver brindle bitch Ch. Coniston Carol, both owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. Adams. There were many potential winners in the classes and it was a joy to 'go over' each one of them. The lines are mainly English with a few American. Ch. Sandgreg Karate Kid has just recently been imported and is making a favorable influence on the breed. The long quarantine period prevents much importation.

The club members do their own superintending, stewarding, cataloguing, handling, etc. and still put on a feast. At the present these creative people are working for a Canine Museum similar to the A.K.C. Museum. The combined clubs even own their own show grounds (with play area for the children). There are few professional handlers, if any, therefore the emphasis is on the breeder. A refreshing idea. I thought Bill would never get through judging groups. He judged Group; runner up in Group; Best Minor Puppy in Group; Best Puppy in Group; Best Junior in Group; Best Open in Group; Best Intermediate in group. There is more opportunity for the exhibitors to participate and may be one of the reasons for the high morale among the exhibitors. They are fierce competitors but they also have a good time.

Sydney (700 miles away) was our next destination. Warren Goldworthy (Aberdeen) picked us up at the airport and we were on our way to their Scottish Terrier Club Specialty. Judge T. Dixon placed the dog Ch. Batonllie Beacon, breeder/owner G & P Baillie as Best in Show. It was out of doors like most of the shows and the club invited us to ringside seats and later to a gourmet lunch. We also attended one of their meetings. I must say, nothing ever changes at the club meetings. It was interesting to follow the usual club situations. I thank President Collins (also member of S.T.C.A.) and the members for their hospitality. Sydney Royal Easter Show was the next day and we were given tickets to the exclusive box seats. This show is a four day benched extravaganza with more than 3000 dogs entered. We watched the final Group judging. Another complicated breed and group judging procedure, but we saw some of Australia's finest dogs and some breeds we had never seen before.

I loved all of the dog activities and admired Australia's beautiful scenery, but I will never forget the people nor the often repeated statement "not to worry". That may be their secret.

The author examining a class of bitches. The last in line was the eventual BB choice; the first in line the runner-up.

C. DOELEA HEATHER (BITCH) - Owner: Mrs. & Mrs. J. Adams, Sire: Ch. Coniston Flame Robin, Dam: Ch. MacGlam Play Girl, Breeder: I. & E. Roberts. Canine Museum Foundation Championship Show affiliated with Kennel Control Council of Victoria.

A DENTAL MYSTERY

© 1991 Carole Frye Owen

Dr. Peter Emily's article, "Dental Terminology and Requirements: a Standard" in the October, 1987, AKC GAZETTE Had impressed me. When a flyer arrived announcing Dr. Emily was to present a seminar in the Dallas area on canine dental problems, I knew I had to go, even if it was a 300-mile drive. I had a dental mystery to solve.

Two dogs we had bred before that time had some of their permanent teeth come in with spotted, weakened enamel: rough, brown-tinged spots. The first time it happened was in our very first litter. The veterinarian termed it enamel hypoplasia, and said it was not hereditary. He said that it was often called simply "distemper teeth" and that it was caused by an elevation of temperature during formation of the enamel. However, neither this dog, nor any of its four littermates (which all had normal tooth enamel) had been sick. When had there been fever to cause this enamel defect in an apparently always healthy puppy?

A few years later, we had another puppy that had the same defect on several permanent incisors and on one or two canines. Puppies in this litter, I remembered, had had a reaction to their second immunizations (combined modified live virus), though certainly not long-lived or life threatening. They had been very sore and had seemed feverish for the first few hours after the shots. My husband is a pediatrician and had found nothing too unusual or worrisome about mild reactions to immunization. This particular puppy contracted ehrlichiosis about a month after she went to her new home. She was sick enough with this tick-borne infection that she had to be on I.V. fluids for several days at the vet's and was treated with tetracycline, which was to cause a further discoloration of teeth, but not weakening of enamel.

Thus, I could see two occasions on which this second puppy could have had a fever that affected enamel formation. My dilemma was: Is it due to the modified live virus vaccine? The vet insisted that it was unlikely that vaccine was the culprit. Our vaccine was the same he gave routinely in his practice, and he was not seeing damage to tooth enamel.

About this time, I saw a tidbit in one of the AKC GAZETTE breed columns which presented a Canadian breeder's theory that stained teeth she'd had may have been from subacute cases of distemper contracted from combo shots. This seemed to fit with information I had read from Dr. Jean Dodds, suggesting a modified vaccine regimen which she asserted was less likely to stress immature immune systems. Dr. Dodds' schedule used killed parvo vaccine and modified live vaccines covering fewer diseases. I wrote the Canadian breeder, Jean Lyle of Vancouver, B.C., who had bred the Wycliffe Standard Poodles for 35 years. She sent a copy of her article, "Bloat, Seizures, Stained Teeth...Do North American's Inflict Them Upon Their Dogs?" from DOGS IN CANADA. After reading that article, I was more sure than ever that the vaccine we used might have caused our problem.

Then I attended Dr. Emily's seminar. Dr. Emily is a Doberman breeder, AKC judge and more importantly, Director of Animal Dentistry stated that enamel hypoplasia is a lack of, or incomplete formation of, enamel. It is a condition which many veterinarians attribute to distemper, with fever arresting development of tooth buds. However, the kicker was: Dr. Emily said that enamel hypoplasia also can be due to A and D vitaminosis, or can be a traumatic problem. With isolated teeth, as our puppies', the cause more likely would be trauma.

Both these two puppies were the only ones of our dogs that had ever had this condition. And, interestingly, both of them were the only puppies on which we had ever had teeth pulled well before the time adult teeth would erupt. The second pup, for instance, was a little overshot at 8 weeks. The vet said overbites often correct themselves and that he wasn't very concerned about the condition. Nevertheless, pulling her bottom incisors might allow the adult incisors to come in to the maximum forward position. Several weeks later I had him pull the teeth. As well as the bottom incisors, I think he took out the two bottom canines, not all of them, but perhaps about half. The teeth did come in in a beautiful scissors bite, as they probably would have without dental intervention. The first affected pup had its top incisors pulled. Its spotting correspondingly was on top incisors.

Now I seemed to have a case for either vaccine-related enamel hypoplasia or trauma-related hypoplasia. Which was it?

The case is at rest in my mind now. This last year we had a puppy on which even before the baby teeth erupted, I suspected the bite might come in undershot. It did. The same vet who had pulled teeth on earlier puppies suggested we might maximize the chance of the adult teeth coming in correctly by pulling the top incisors. This pup was important to us, so we decided to invest enough time to wait for the adult teeth.

Since trauma might have caused the spotting of enamel on the other two puppies, I decided to take this pup to one of a handful of canine dental specialists in Texas, to someone who did this procedure all the time and might have the expertise to get teeth pulled without traumatizing tooth buds. Another dental specialist I consulted by phone said he preferred to pull the offending teeth very near the time when the adult teeth come in, so that the gum tissue would not have filled in, thus letting the adult teeth drift forward to fill the spaces vacated recently by baby teeth. This made sense to me, but that vet was on the East Coast, and I was in Texas. I felt I had to go with the opinion of the Texas specialist who had actually seen the puppy. He advised pulling at 8 weeks, so that if the upper jaw took a growth spurt it would not be held by the bottom teeth in a position of dental block.

For a third time, we got spotting on the teeth. When the adult teeth came in on this latest puppy, some of the ones which would have erupted from tooth buds below pulled baby teeth had enamel hypoplasia. Unfortunately, the pup's bite also came in undershot, no different than I would have predicted when I first looked at the gums at three weeks. This latest pup had not had any vaccine reaction whatsoever. It had received immunization on Dr. Dodds' revised vaccine schedule, with the modified live distemper series separated from the killed parvo. I attribute the spotting of enamel on this last puppy solely to the trauma of pulling teeth, and likewise on the other two puppies. (Note: I do not rule out the possibility that vaccine reactions or vaccine breakthrough may cause other cases of enamel hypoplasia, but our cases are most certainly trauma-based.)

Moral of this story is: tooth trauma is very difficult for even a canine dental specialist to avoid. Indeed, the tiny teeth that were handed to me by the specialist, with roots may be four times longer than the exposed tooth, make me marvel at how trauma can ever be avoided, unless, perhaps it is at the time when the root has started to disintegrate naturally.

Our experience will make us very wary of pulling any questionable teeth in the future, except very close to the natural shedding time. And, unless it is a puppy that is very important to us, as was this third puppy, we would believe what Mother Nature tells us early on about the bite.

What are the treatment options for enamel hypoplasia?

- 1) Do nothing,
- 2) Abrade off rough areas to prevent buildup of plaque, and treat with flouride to help prevent decay.
- 3) Cover soft, damaged spots with hard enamel-like coating.

This third option was what we chose for the last puppy which was destined for a special pet home, instead of the show ring. Though I had been told there was no coating that was a good match for dog enamel, the color used was quite acceptable.

Among the AKC regulations on teeth for dogs that are shown are these two:

- 1) Teeth and/or bites may not be altered or added to or cosmetically changed from their original shape or form.
 - 2) Teeth may be treated for disease or decay without penalty.
- Whether enamel hypoplasia is to be treated or untreated would depend on the interpretation of those two rules.

The "up" side of enamel hypoplasia is that AKC judges are not supposed to judge against "distemper teeth." These spots are not pretty, but they are not to be considered a defect against which a dog should be faulted. An article judge Lenora Riddle wrote for DOG NEWS in 1990 reported that these very guidelines were emphasized at a judges' training seminar she attended.

On our first puppy with spotted teeth, we were so sure judges could not overlook this cosmetic defect that we placed it in a pet home. The second time we were braver and decided to try the ring, to see if judges really would overlook the spotting. Brownish spots on her teeth did not slow this second dog. She finished championships very easily in both the U.S. and Canada.

Dr. Emily's views on pulling teeth are less conservative than mine after our three cases of enamel hypoplasia. He emphatically stated at his seminar, "There is no mistake taking out teeth too soon. The problem is from leaving them in too long! Baby teeth, especially canines, won't always come out. I've seen them still in at two years of age."

Some lines have more retained puppy teeth than others, according to Dr. Emily, and retained teeth are seen more often in small breeds.

"Man is screwing up," said Dr. Emily. "He's breeding for one thing (like long heads, for instance) and getting combinations of others."

"Why do we take teeth out?" Dr. Emily asked us rhetorically. "To give teeth a chance. Does it look like this tooth is going to be a problem? Pull it."

Dr. Emily calls this technique interceptive orthodontics: "Get to the problem before the problem gets to us."

He showed a photo of undershot baby teeth and indicated that if those particular baby teeth were removed, the permanent teeth would tend to advance forward. The tongue will even try to push them forward," advised Dr. Emily. "If the problem is a mechanical problem, it will help. Take out the side we want to advance, the slow side."

"However," reminded Dr. Emily, "if the dog is truly undershot he will be undershot regardless of taking out teeth."

That's what my head told me on the third puppy. My heart told me to pull, wait and see. The head, not the heart, was right.

CRUFTS - 1991

By Jo Musson

My husband, Mel, and I have been to CRUFTS before but not for several years, so we were particularly interested in going this year - their centennial celebration and first time in their new show site, the National Exhibition Centre in Birmingham, England. It's a wonderful hall for a dog show and a vast improvement on their previous location in London.

As most of you know, the whole show system is very different in England and very much more casual. There are very few professional handlers, most of the dogs are handled by breeders and/or owners who are dressed for the most part in jeans and grooming aprons! The Scotties are kept in a longer coat - at least 2-3 inches on the body - that is known as a rough coat and the eyebrows come all the way down their nose! They are also kept in a lot more weight (we might go as far as to call it fat!), which gives the impression of being bigger but overall I don't think there was much size difference between the American and British Scotties. They do all have good bone and nice short little legs which we liked, but generally speaking, there was nothing there that we considered particularly eye-catching and certainly no improvement on anything that we see here in this country.

Best of breed at CRUFTS 1991 was Ch. Wilermist Clara, a 4 year old black bitch owned by Mr. and Mrs. B. Tinning. Clara went on to win the Terrier Group but BIS went to a Clumber Spaniel.

It was a very interesting and we were pleased to see so many American professional handlers and judges there. Although we are both still British Citizens, we were admitted to the overseas visitors lounge on the strength of our American address! Here we could hear snatches of almost every European language plus accents from North America and Australia. CRUFTS was obviously the place to be!

The Spring, 1990 issue of the Bagpiper carried our article about Gregory and Hellen Sushkevich, Scottish Terrier breeders living in Moscow USSR. In that report we told about Gregory's visit to Stonehedge Kennels and our impressions of him as a concerned and knowledgeable Scottish Terrier breeder. Subsequently, Gregory and Hellen were nominated for and accepted as members of the STCA. Gregory returned to Moscow in December, '89 following three weeks in the United States as an exchange teacher in a school in the Albany, New York area.

Since that time our direct communication with Gregory and Hellen has been almost non-existent because of the political situation in his country. We do know that copies of the Bagpiper have reached Gregory and that both he and Hellen know of their election to membership to STCA.

In October, '90 Gregory applied for and was granted emigration to Israel for himself, Hellen, his Mother and two female Scottish Terriers and one Kerry Blue Terrier. Their flight to freedom was delayed by the war in the Gulf, but on February 26, 1991, they departed the USSR.

After a difficult flight from Moscow via Budapest Hungary, they and their Scotties arrived safely in the Tel Aviv, Israel.

The Mediterranean climate proved to be unhealthy for Hellen, so the family moved on to Jerusalem where they now live in an apartment.

The families in the Albany area are working with U.S. immigration authorities to arrange for the family to come to the U.S. as quickly as possible. The Albany group is arranging for a permanent job for Gregory and a place for the family to live. In the meantime, we are now able to communicate freely with the family. If any member of the STCA would like to write and encourage Gregory and Hellen, their current address is as follows:
