

TERRIERS

By CHARLES G. HOPTON

IT is a real pleasure to publish the picture of Hetherington Teetotaler, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. J. Carruther's III young puppy. This fine son of Westbourne Teetotaler started at Westminster at seven months of age, where he was fourth in a class of seventeen, while still very green. From here he went on, going Reserve at such large events as Cincinnati and Chicago, and being Winners at Moline and Durham. After the Cincinnati show, this youngster was put up over every dog on the circuit at one time or another. He is still well under a year of age and will undoubtedly be a finished champion before many months.

Peaceville Kennels have a number of very interesting whelpings due this month. One bitch by Gallant Knight out of a Teetotaler daughter is in whelp to her grandsire, Champion Crackley Supreme. This will be the first Supreme litter in Cincinnati and because of the close mating will be interesting to watch.

A litter sister of Hetherington Teetotaler is in whelp to Gallant Knight and her dam has been bred back to Teetotaler. Percy Roberts is showing this splendid bitch in the East. All in all, there should be some splendid puppies at the Peaceville Kennel before many weeks.

M. Valerio, of the Valor Hall Kennels, Bellevue, Ky., has a litter of six sired by Ch. Westbourne Teetotaler out of Idlewood Juliette. A young bitch from a similar mating is now in whelp to her sire and these intensive Teetoler puppies are awaited with much interest.

The sensational Smooth Foxterrier, Dunsrex, has recently arrived at the home of his new owner, T. R. Barick of Manchester, N. H. Dunsrex was imported from England, where he was considered one of the finest Smooths in the country. He won his English Championship at thirteen months of age, after having won twelve Challenge Certificates.

W. P. Overman, of Indianapolis, is expecting a litter of Smooth Foxterriers out of his Ch. Southboro Soranus ex a Ch. Watteau Donzella bitch, which is showing heavy in whelp to Ch. Flornell Standard.

Gertrude F. Kinsey writes that her dog Nosegay Beggars Tick has an "absolutely perfect mouth." He is the son of English Champion Tweburn Clincher, a daughter of Bullthistle of Nosegay. Here is nice breeding that certainly should produce a perfect something or other.

At the last meeting of the Bullterrier Club of New York, guest speaker, C. E. Harbison, addressed the club on kennel advertising.

Temptation of Audlon

Owned by Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon B. Wallace, Jr., Clayton, Mo.

Sensational, eight months' old daughter of Warily Playboy out of Fascination of Audlon. This youngster was Winner, Best of Winners, Best Terrier and Runner-up for Best in Show at the St. Louis event recently.

Andrew Helgesen's resignation as Treasurer was reluctantly accepted. President Haring has recently added a litter sister of Coolridge Misty Morn to his kennel. This is the Bullterrier which attracted so much attention at the Garden.

PLAYBOY OF AUDLON

Owned by Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon B. Wallace, Jr., Clayton, Mo.

A litter brother to the bitch, Temptation of Audlon pictured in this issue. This outstanding puppy has never been defeated in his classes except at New York. He placed second at the Specialty shows in New York and has been Reserve to such noted winners as Helles-ton Knockout and Dogberry Barwire.

Mrs. Bradshaw Crandall reports a remarkable litter of eight male puppies.

Wire Coats

The breed standard allots a total of fifteen points to the coat of Wirehaired Foxterriers and states they should be smooth, flat, but hard, dense and abundant. One sees far too many curly, soft coats on some of the modern Terriers—they should feel harsh and wiry to the touch, not fluffy and silky.

MRS. Vera Cataldi from way up in Seattle writes to congratulate us upon opening up the Yankee Terrier Dept. She says she doesn't care so much for the new name but then adds "however, I am for it, if it will help lift the breed up where it really belongs." And that's the real spirit all right.

There are a good many good Yankees up in the Northwest and quite a few are benched at the local shows.

The Yankee Terrier
Seattle King II

Mrs. Cataldi favors the dark seal brindle Yankee, or the red fawns with black masks. The latter are hard to find as they so often come with light noses or light eyes. When you do find one with a good dark eye and a black nose, you have a mighty handsome dog.

The Cataldi dogs are descendants of the old Lightner, Richmond and Bruce's Joe Gans strains. At the present time a young bitch puppy looks as though she would make the "going" hard for some good dogs when she matures. Mrs. Cataldi sends us a picture of Seattle King II, an old timer that was famous in the show ring.

Kerry Blue Terriers

The Kerry is a very popular and fashionable Terrier in the East, but is little known in the mid-Western section of this country. They are an unusual, attractive dog of typical Terrier characteristics, weighing around thirty-five pounds and bluish in color. Their coat is quite soft and silky, but strange to say, quite weather-resisting. The breed is very active, intelligent and hardy, makes a splendid pet and, when properly groomed, is a stylish, unusual-looking dog.

"Here's my platform and I'll stick to it."

It's time us dogs got together and helped settle some of our national problems.

Take the matter of food for instance. Why can't we have as much to say about what we eat as anyone else?

I know we need vitamins and minerals and the other new-fangled doodads they put in our foods these days. They make us feel better and look better and keep healthier. But what I'm asking is, why can't we have them in foods that taste good? After all, we're the ones who have to eat 'em.

Take my case. My Master came out the other day with a big package of Miller's samples. He said, "Come here, Scotty. Let's see how you like these foods."

Your Radio Dog Club meetings continue throughout the summer. Tune in on WLW at 6:15 E.S.T. every Tuesday.

Boy, oh boy, and were they good! I didn't know they made foods like these for dogs.

Must be they suited my Master, too, because I saw him filling out the blank that said, "Special Get-Acquainted Offer" on the outside. And now am I going to be happy? I'll show him.

Here's a tip, buddy. If you want to have your vitamins and minerals in the slickest tasting food you ever put down the hatch, tell the head of your family to send this coupon to the folks who make Miller's Dog Foods.

Yours,

SCOTTY.
