SCOTTISH TERRIERS

Associate Editor:
Dr. John E. Rogers

LACK of shows, and possibly the summer heat have resulted in almost no news. There have been no Eastern shows since the last issue and from the only two Mid-western events—Albion and Jackson, Mich., has come not a word. We have catalogues—not marked—and since there was only one entry at each show this may explain everything. The one—Marie A Stone's Ch. Kinclaven Escapade, was third in the group at Albion and second at Jackson.

We do have two catalogues from the far off Northwest—the Vancouver Kennel Club show on July 17th and the Dog Fanciers' Association of Oregon held at Portland the following day. At the Vancouver show there was an entry of 9 and Best of Breed went to Carnation Farms' Dor-El Black Nugget. Nugget was in a real winning mood, went on to capture the Group and wound up a grand day by placing Best in Show All Breeds. The next day at Portland he was again Best of Breed, but thought he had done enough to bring glory to the breed and stopped right there.

Dor-El Black Nugget is well known to all Mid-west fanciers. He was bred by Dor-El Kennels, and is a son of Ch. Bradthorne Bullion out of Bramble of Blossomlea. Bramble will be remembered as one of the "refugees" which "Stan" Speer imported when England first went to war and her breeder was forced to hastily abandon her kennel as she was in a heavy bombing area. Nugget came from the classes at both the Northwest shows to make his wins. There was only one bitch present at Vancouver and none at Portland so both shows were three pointers or better.

At present, most Mid-west fanciers are concentrating on the Specialty show of the Scottish Terrier Club of Chicago which is to be held in conjunction with the Western Specialty Clubs' show at the Chicago Arena on October 2nd and 3rd. The well-known P. K. Groves of Olympia Fields, Ill., will judge Scotties at this show. It will only be necessary for fanciers to be on hand with their dogs the day their breed is judged, and Scotties are scheduled for Sunday, October 3rd. This is quite a break for those whose business makes it impossible for them to get away in time to be in Chicago on Saturday. The Sunday judging time will permit them to show and still get away to be back home for Monday's business.

A late flash from Indianapolis advises us that Mrs. Flagler Matthews will judge a number of Terrier breeds at the Hoosier Kennel Club show which is to be held on Sunday, September 19th.

The Scottish Terrier Club of Chicago sends the names of the new officers for 1943-44. They include President, Albert Butterworth; Vice - President, Robert Stewart; Treasurer, Mrs. C. H. Hersee; Secretary, Mrs. George L. Hicks.

John Naylor of Chicago is generally credited with being the first breeder to introduce the Scottish Terrier into this country and he brought over several Scotties in the early eighties. It has been stated that the first Scottish Terrier ever registered in America was Dake (3688) a brindle dog whelped September 15, 1884, bred by O. P. Chandler, Kokomo, Ind. Dake may have been the first American-bred Scottie to be registered, but Mr. Naylor registered two Scotties that we know of in 1883. These were both imports—Prince Charlie No. 3310 and Queen Lilly No. 3311. This appears in the American Kennel Club's Stud Book, Volume 2. As a matter of fact Mr. Naylor was actively showing in 1883. His Tam Glenn and Bonnie Belle were at Pittsburgh that year and were shown under James Mortimer, this being the first show which Mr. Mortimer judged in America. That same year, Tam Glenn was shown at a number of other shows.

It is rather interesting to note the number of Scotties that were being shown at Westminster in the early days. In 1890-91-92, there were but four representatives of the breed. In 1893 it jumped to 15 and 1895 brought out the banner entry of 30. Up until 1900, there were no individual class entries for Scotties, and their recognition as a force at the shows really began about this time. It was in this year (1900) that the Scottish Terrier Club of America, as it now exists, was organized. There had been an old Scottish Terrier Club established about a half dozen years prior to this but it lost its Charter by default to its members. Dr. Ewing was one of the promoters of the existing Scottish Terrier Club of America, and it was Dr. Ewing's Nosegay Sweet William which was destined to be the first American-bred Scottie pup to take a Winners rosette at Westminster. This occurred in 1901 when the entry was 32, the largest Scottie entry for America up to that date. Unfortunately, Sweet William did not live long enough to acquire his title as he met with a fatal accident shortly after the Westminster show.

Elizabeth Hull writes that Glenafton Miss America whelped a splendid even litter in July, by Glenafton Commando. She says they are a cloddy, beautifully headed lot and while it is a little early to judge, two or three look as though they could give a good account of themselves at a later date.

Irish Terriers

The Irish Terrier Club of Chicago will hold its Specialty show at the Chicago Arena on Saturday, October 2nd, in conjunction with the Western Specialty Club's Association's event. John E. Doran of Cincinnati, will be on the woolsack and all club members are working hard to get out the best entry they've ever had for this fixture. Remember, Irish Terriers will be judged on Saturday, and dogs only have to be on hand the day they are judged.

Airedales

Ch. Ego of Osamequin took Best of Breed at the Specialty Show of the Airedale Club of New England in both 1942 and 1943. Nice going for Ego, owned by Mrs. Helen Peck of North Providence, R. I. He is a son of Ch. Freedom Free Lance out of Tiltomia's Lady Bess.

Westminster Donates $5000 to Dogs for Defense

A check for $5,000 was presented to Harry I. Caesar, President of Dogs for Defense, by Dr. Samuel Milbank, President of the Westminster Kennel Club. The check represented proceeds of the 1943 Westminster show. The 1944 event will again be held for the benefit of Dogs for Defense.

Standard of the Bulldog

with the belly tucked up and not rotund.

Back.—The back should be short and strong, very broad at the shoulders and comparatively narrow at the loins. There should be a slight fall in the back, close behind the shoulders (its lowest part), whence the spine should rise to the loins (the top of which should be higher than the top of the shoulders), thence curving again more suddenly to the tail, forming an arch (a very distinctive feature of the breed), termed "roach-back," or more correctly, "wheel-back".

Forelegs.—The forelegs should be short, very stout, straight and muscular, set wide apart, with well developed calves, presenting a bowed outline, but the bones of the legs should not be curved or bandy, nor the feet brought too close together.

Elbows.—The elbows should be low and stand well out and loose from the body.

Hindlegs.—The hindlegs should be strong and muscular and longer than the forelegs, so as to elevate the loins above the shoulders.

Hocks should be slightly bent and well let down, so as to give length and strength from loins to hock.

The lower leg should be short, straight and strong, with the stifles turned slightly outward and away from the body. The hocks are thereby made to approach each other, and the hindfeet to turn outward.

Feet.—The feet should be moderate in size, compact and firmly set. Toes compact, well split up, with high knuckles and with short, stubby nails.

The front feet may be straight or slightly outward, but the hind feet should be pointed well outward.

Tail.—The tail may be either straight or "screwed" (but never curved or curly), and in any case must be short, hung low, with decided downward carriage, thick root and fine tip.

If straight, the tail should be cylindrical and of uniform taper.

If "screwed" the bends or kinks should be well defined, and they may be abrupt and even knotty, but no portion of the member should be elevated above the base or root.

Boston Terriers

THE members of the Boston Terrier Club of Cleveland, Inc., have enrolled their dogs one hundred per cent in the War Dog Fund. Thirty-one Bostons representing the dogs owned by the Club members have been enlisted with the following ranks: 2 Lieutenants, 5 Sergeants, 5 Corporals, 7 Privates, 3 Chief Petty Officers, 4 Third Class Petty Officers and 5 Privates First Class.

A total of $100 was collected from the enlistments. This is the first instance of a Boston Terrier Club enrolling one hundred per cent in the War Dog Fund.

The Boston Terrier Club of Cleveland will hold its 26th annual Specialty Show on Sunday, September 19th, at the Masonic Temple, Cleveland. The well-known authority, Vincent G. Perry, will judge.

Western Boston Terrier Specialty

The Western Boston Terrier Club of Chicago is holding its Specialty in conjunction with the Western Specialty Clubs event at the Chicago Arena on October 2nd and 3rd. The judge will be Mrs. Robert B. Griffing of Rundela, N. Y. While the Combined Specialty is a two-day show, dogs need only be benched the day they are to be judged and Boston Terriers are slated for Sunday, October 3rd.
